Teeners Rescue Boy, 9

A group of South San Francisco teen-agers were credited with saving the life of a small boy in Pacifica Sunday, after the child was swept out to sea by the undertow.

Nine-year-old George Kenny Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kenny of Pacifica, was overcome by high waves and currents at the beach behind the Wander Inn about 3 p.m. Sunday as his mother looked on from the shore.

A group of nine teen-agers were surfing in the area, according to Mrs. Kenny, and when the child's head disappeared beneath the waves three of the older boys swam out to assist him.

"The first three boys who tried to help him were also swept out by the current," she said, "then the other teen-agers swam out with a surf board."

As the horrified mother stood watching, the high school students finally succeeded in assisting the child to the beach, apparently "none the worse for wear."

"I was in such an emotional state I didn't even remember to thank those young people," Mrs. Kenny said, "but I hope they realize how grateful my husband and I are for their heroism."

The teen-agers involved in the rescue were Rocco Lucero, jim Graham, Stege Hemmeter, Steve Fox, Jim McGough, Mark Gurtiza, Emile Plise, Joan Gomez and Bob Romero, all of South San Francisco.

County Studies North Area Courtroom Plan

By FRANK LaPIERRE

A recommendation that four additional courtrooms — one municipal and three superior — be immediately built in the North County is being considered by the county judiciary, it was learned Tuesday.

In a report submitted for consideration recently, Henry Tarratt, county building director, said a series of studies conducted by his offices has pointed up the need for five superior courtrooms and a total of six municipal courtrooms in the North county during the next 15 years.

He has recommended against adding to the present courthouse in South San Francisco, which now uses three departments for municipal courtrooms, and suggested a separate building be constructed on the same property.

Daly City officials, however, have been pressuring the county to establish a superior court in that city.

Tarratt said he had looked into the possibility of dividing the four courtrooms between the two cities — two in South San Francisco and two in Daly City.

But the over-all plan of what courtrooms would be established where during the next 15 years was not clearly defined in the report.

Efficiency would be greater if it were possible to combine the courts in a single structure on county property in South San Francisco, Tarratt said.

A recent meeting with several superior court judges on the location of the courtrooms indicated their desire to have at least two superior courts in the present north county courts building along with supporting staffs, Tarratt said.

Although Daly City officials agree the North County needs additional courts, the "splitting" of the allotment was rapped.

"It will be a waste of money if they moved only one superior court and a municipal court to our city and set up similar facities in South San Francisco," Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett said.

He said the city already has offered the use of the old city hall on Wellington Avenue as a temporary courthouse for a superior court judge "until a suitable structure can be built in the city."

Lycett said, "It would be nice" if the county would consider constructing a courthouse and county building adjacent to the new multi-million dollar civic center.

According to Lycett the "most sensible" approach to the proposed establishment of additional courtrooms in the North County would be to keep the municipal courtrooms in South San Francisco and construct a separate facility for superior court judges and their staffs in Daly City.

In order to build up a fund for courtroom construction, Tarratt has asked for a $250,000 item in the 1967 budget. Last year's budget earmarked $150,000 with more to be added during ensuing years, Tarratt said.

'Bypassed' D.C. Council

Architects for Cow Palace Job Rapped

Two representatives from the State Division of Architects came under fire from the Daly City council for not channelling proposed construction plans for work at the Cow Palace through their offices.

Aldo Crestetto and Lester Mullen informed the council, during a study session Monday night, they had been "under the mistaken impression" that talks with the city staff were sufficient.

"We just didn't know that we also had to channel these plans through the council in addition to the staff," Crestetto said.

The proposed work, scheduled to start within three weeks, includes modification of the main entrance, installation of new signals and changes in certain vehicular traffic patterns around the state-operated Cow Palace.

"These modifications are in line with a 1963 Stanford Research Plan for the Cow Palace," Crestetto explained. "And we have a real tight schedule—all work has to be finished by August."

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett said the matter "boils down to the fact we have been bypassed—and we don't like to be bypassed."

"What do we have to do to have them (in Sacramento) act like normal people. Those are our streets, and no one in Sacramento is going to decide what's going to happen in Daly City," Lycett said.

Councilman Micheal de Bernardi said the first hint the council had concerning the proposed work around the arena "was when I read it in the paper."

Both state representatives assured the council that future Cow Palace projects would be channeled through their offices for approval before work got under way.

Meanwhile, any changes in the immediate project the council suggested would be taken under consideration, Crestetto said.

D.C. Station Is Held Up

A lone gunman walked into the Phillips 66 service station at School and Mission streets, Daly City, shortly before midnight Monday and hled up the attendant, fleeing with more than $200.

Construction Pact Awarded in SSF

South San Francisco councilmen voted to award a contract for all phases of construction of a new maintainance shop and crew quarters at the city corporation yard after debating whether the complete project is "necessary or merely desirable" Monday.

Funds for "Phase I" of the new facility, the utility building, are provided in the city's current capital improvement budget, but an additional $23,000 must be allocated in the coming fiscal year to cover the complete contract.

"The shop area and crew quarters are necessary at this time, but other portions of the project, such as pavement surrounding the buildings, could be built at a later time," according to City Manager Eugene Aiello.

However, councilmen noted bids on the contract "would, in all probability, be less advantageous at a later date," and budgeting for the improvements is not expected to interfere with other capital improvements projected next year.

The contract was awarded to the Nibbi Bros. firm of South San Francisco. Their bid on the complete project, $45,499, was the lowest of seven entered.

The lowest bid received for "Phase I" of the contract was $27,277, considerably more than the currently allocated $22,500.

The city's annual capital improvement budget is approximately $350,000, Aiello said, and the corporation yard improvements will not significantly alter projected plans.

D.C. Phone Prefix Petitions

Larry Levene, a director on the board of the Serramonte Homeowners' Association, disclosed today plans to circulate petitions in an attempt to obtain telephone service through the Daly City exchange instead of South San Francisco.

Levene said the Daly City prefix is available to Serramonte residents, but for a $5 additional fee.

He said that when completed the subdivision will be split by the two exchanges. A portion of the numbers will carry South San Francisco prefixes; the remainder Daly City.

The group, Levene stated, will use the petition to tell Pacific Telephone that homeowners want the change.

Millbrae Woman Contest Winner

She is Mrs. Fran Dravenstadt, 1255 Lausen Court.

Her letter describing "Why I Think The Times Is Tops" was selected as best of more than 400 entries.

Her winning letter was:

"I think The 'Times is Tops' because, although a busy housewife and mother, daily I have traveled far, sat with the Washington lawmakers, grieved with the unfortunate, laughed with the cartoonists, shopped for bargains and learned the happenings in my own backyard. I truly enjoy keeping up with The Times."

Readers have until 5 p.m. this Thursday to submit their letters for next week's $50 cash prize. An official entry blank appears in today's issue of The Post.

Sweeper Bid Is Accepted

The higher of two bids entered on a street sweeping machine was accepted by the South San Francisco Council Monday, after city maintenance supervisor Andy Bodondi said the low bid "failed to meet specifications."

The council voted to purchase the machine from the Nixon Egle Equipment Co. at $13,712.

After adjustments were made for discounting and taxes, there was less than $5 difference in the accepted bid and the bid entered by Western Traction Co., according to the city manager.

Jeff Hi Choirs, Director To Stage Concerts in D.C.

Three varied musical events will be presented this month by the Jefferson High School Chamber Choir, a capella choir, and their director, Gilbert Crane, who this year will leave for a new post in Oregon.

The performances will be staged at 8 p.m. in room 507, May 19, 20, and 26.

This Friday the Chamber Choir will present a musical program that largely will emphasize contemporary choral compositions. The balance of the program will draw from renaissance and baroque repertoires.

An unusual program is scheduled for Saturday when Director Crane will give a one-man lecture recital on the three-manual electric organ, being provided especially for this concert by the Rodgers Organ Company.

An accomplished performing organist, Crane will present a program to include a demonstration of the organ, a description of the musical literature prepared specifically for this instrument, and the playing of some very early organ music.

The third musical offering, May 26, will feature the a capella choir singing a set of pieces called "Frostiana." These consist of seven poems by the American poet, Robert Frost, set to music by one of the nation's foremost contemporary composers, Randall Thompson.

"Frostiana" will feature men's and women's singing sections, individually.

In adition to "Frostiana" the program will include some solo performances of other works: Diane Cortopassi, singing an "aria" from Bach's "Cantata No. 79"; Ellen Harper and Marcia Mahaffie, singing the "Spring Carol" from Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols"; and Charlene Clark and Cindy Spitzer, performing selections from famous musical comedies.

Crane was hired by Jefferson in 1960 by the late John P. Mongan.

Crane will go to the University of Oregon to finish a year's work on his doctorate's degree and will, the following year, be appointed associate professor of choral music there.

Crane is a graduate of the University of California. He did advanced degree work at San Francisco State College. A noted performing organist, he has studied under Harold Alexander Post and Robert Kates.

Students Take Over S.S.F. Meet

South San Francisco High School students took over the reins if city government Monday, as officials relinquished their posts for "Youth in Government Day."

The day's activities included tours of such city facilities as the police department, library and marina, and an orientation program and luncheon.

The students also sat with councilmen Monday night at the regular council meeting.

Taking over for Mayor Patrick Ahern was Peter Dreier, with Kathy Bryant serving as vice mayor.

Serving on the "council" were Armand Brett, Celeste Perry and Barbara Cohen.

Nancy Hill headed the administrative staff as city manager, and Lorretta Bernardi, Dave Kerran, Mike Jones and Diannia Bearce also served in administrative positions.

Taking over for department heads were Norm Phillips, Barry Wallage, Rich Ferro, Dave Dollar, Carol Muthe, Ron Nazmoncini, Carol Chapin, Yvonne Haynes, Phil Stupi and Craig Guili.

Sue Miller, Laura Howard and Eugene Conde served on the personnel board, and Joelle Riccomi, Eileen Roach and Afy Downey were planning commissioners.

On the library board were Linda Fritze, Rickie Herberst and Trudy Flecher. Steve Sarro was administrative assistant.

Marijuana Case: $200,000 Bail Is Sought By DA

Assistant Dist. Atty. John Juergens this week moved to double the $100,000 bail of Robert Perry, one of three men arrested in Northern California's largest marijuana haul at San Bruno Saturday.

At the same hearing, Perry's attorney, Bill Bernstein of San Francisco, petitioned Judge F. J. Delarios to reduce the bail, stating the figure is "beyond the magnitude of the crime."

Both requests were "taken under submission" by the North County Court, and a preliminary hearing for the former pizza parlor manager was set May 22.

Perry, 45-year-old manager of Mustache's Pizza Parlor in San Bruno, was arrested along with Norman E. Dean, 19, of San Bruno, and Paul W. Rieger, 20, of Pacifica, when officers confiscated 1,400 pounds of marijuana at a San Bruno residence early Saturday.

Westborough Action Stalls

Action on a number of matters pertaining to development of the Westborough Subdivision in South San Francisco was postponed again at Monday's council meeting at City Atty. John Noonan requested more time "to tie up a few loose ends."

Noonan said arrangements for clearing liens on the city's ten-acre park site and a fire station site have been "almost completed" by the subdivision developers. Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc.

"We expect to have this matter cleared up and ready for council action before the June 5 meeting," Noonan said.

Continued on the agenda Monday were consideration of a planning commission solution authorizing rezoning of a 180-acre area of Westborough as a planned community and Caesar-Callan's application for a grading permit to excavate fill from an area south of Westborough Boulevard and east of Gellert Boulevard.

Under terms of the agreement Noonan is negotiating on the city's Westborough Park site, the firm must begin grading operations within 30 days after the landscape architects' plans for the project are filed.

Councilmen gave the developers an "ultimatum" on the park and fire station sites several weeks ago, and voted to withhold all grading permits for the subdivision until work is begun on the park and fire station sites.

Approximately $178,000 in liens on the property must all be cleared before the firm will be allowed to proceed with development.

Little Dog Ties Traffic Up on Coast

A little brown dog brought traffic to a standstill on Cabrillo Highway south of Pacifica Sunday night.

Motorists told highway patrolmen the dog, which had somehow gotten onto the Devil's Slide section of the highway, became frightened and started running back and forth across the roadway.

One driver was hurt in the ensuing traffic jam.

Albert Minshall, 67, of San Francisco, told officers he was northbound at 9:50 p.m. when he came around a curve and saw the line of cars. He applied the brakes and his station wagon skidded into an embankment, throwing him out. Minshall was taken to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of a severely lacerated forehead.

'Life Purpose' Sermon Topic

"A Thrilling Life Purpose and Goal," as seen in Paul's statement in Philippians 3, is to be Walter Stram's 11 a.m. message, Sunday, Peninsula Church jof Christ Christian Church, meeting in Olivet Chapel, Hillside Boulevard and "F" Street, Colma.

Cancer Drive Nears Goal: Has $90,000

First progress reports on the 1967 Crusade Against Cancer in San Mateo County, issued today by Chairman Richard H. Foster, indicate an "encouraging" 70 per cent of the fund goal returned.

"Through business and industry contributions, mailed donations and the all-important collections by our "Tell Your Neighbor" block workers, San Mateo County Branch, American Cancer Society has received more than $90,000," Foster announced.

"At the same time we have delivered our educational message about cancer's warning signals to more householders than ever before."

Although April's inclement weather delayed house-to-house calls in many areas, two cities' volunteers already have returned over-the-quota donations, the Crusade chairman reported.

Millbrae's $4,477 returned exceeded its quota of $3,000 by almost 50 per cent and gave it the county's "first over the top" rating for the third consecutive year. Menlo Park was a close second in exceeding its goal of $11,000 by nearly $300.

Pacificans Urge Sign Law Easing

Pacifica planning commissioners adopted a resolution Monday recommending council approval of a change in the city's zoning ordinance to allow the posting of directional signs along freeways.

The proposed ordinance change would allow "public and quasi-public organizations, such as churches, to post signs giving directions to their facilities.

A hearing will be held May 22 to review standards of freeway signs in the city.

In other business Monday, commissioners granted a use permit to William A. Jensen on behalf of the Mobil Oil Co. to allow establishment of tire merchandising units at a service station at the corner of Hickey Boulevard and Gateway Drive.

The permit was approved subject to several conditions imposed by the planning staff regarding landscaping of the site.

Driver Hurt

Edward A. Valiterra, 28-year-old PG&E clerk of 95 Clarendon Road, Apt. 5, Pacifica, escaped with minor injuries early today when his small foreign car careened off Junipero Serra Freeway at Collins Avenue in South San Francisco and rolled over several times.

He was treated at Mary's Help Hospital for injuries to his left leg.

A Beautification Act Section Hit

South San Francisco councilmen adopted a resolution Monday opposing a section of the 1965 Highway Beautification Act which provides for compensation to be paid billboard advertising companies effected by the law.

Mayor Patrick Ahern said the resolution should be considered by outside advertising companies "as an indication they will receive no 'severance pay' when and if their operations in the city are terminated by this law."

Ahern said the resolution is not aimed at signs now in existence in the city, but at "prospective signs."

A notice outlining the city's position on the compensation matter will be included in all billboard sign permits issued in the future, the mayor said.

The League of California Cities is opposing the section, and has asked that it be deleted from the new law "because it will put pressure on the cities to pay compensation."

In other business Monday, the council adopted a resolution "correcting certain clerical errors" involving the billing of a resident for sewer service at an unoccupied house.

Sewer taxes levied against Mrs. Clara Tacchi will be refunded "because the house in question has been vacant for several months."

Incinerator Tryout For Public View

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The Food Machinery Corporation (FMC) will demonstrate its revolutionary refuse incineration plant on May 19, San Francisco scavenger boss Leonard Stefanelli announced today.

Costing between $7-$8 million, the plant was designed to handle some 3,000 tons of garbage daily — the total output of San Francisco and the five North County cities, Stefanelli said.

Stefanelli, president of Sunset Scavengers, said the FMC plant was "more adaptable" to the Bay Area, "not a monster like those plants in operation in Europe."

Recently, a three-man task force from the San Grancisco Chamber of Commerce toured several European incineration plants and found them to meet all standards of air pollution and incineration accepted in California.

"But you should see those monsters," Stefanelli said, referring to the European plants.

"Many are four stories high and have smoke stacks 400 to 600 feet high," he said.

The towering stacks are needed to create a draft for burning. FMC's design utilizes a blower system and does away with the unsightly stacks, Stefanelli explained.

If the European-type plant were constructed near San Francisco, costs would exceed $15 million "and would still require a dumping site for the ash," Stefanelli said.

He noted that the Oyster Point dumping site in South San Francisco would soon be full and suggested "San Francisco and the five north county cities enter a joint venture on this problem."

"We have a diked dump site adjacent to theirs (at Sierra Point) and could continue to dump there while the incineration plant is being built. After the incineration plant is in operation, we would still have sufficient area to continue dumping there for many years," Stefaneiili maintained.

The Sierra Point dump site has been in dispute since the people of Brisbane overturned an earlier council aproval allowing Stefanelli to dump there.

Superior Court Judge Harold Underwood last month ruled the people had the right to prohibit further dumping.

The decision has thrown San Francisco into a near-panic on how to solve the problem if Brisbane moves to block trucks from continuing their dumping activities at the site.

The site would later become a modern airport for small planes. Stefanelli said.

Brisbane Flower Show Dates Set

Brisbane's Second Annual Flower Show will be held August 19 and 20 at the Natalie Lipman School Auditorium. The show will be officially opened to the public by Miss Brisbane at 11:30 a.m., Saturday, August 19.

As an added attraction this year, there will be a separate junior division for children aged five to twelve years. Mrs. Byron Jensen is general chairman, assisted by co-chairman Mrs. Lillian Echols. Sponsor of the show is the Brisbane Recreation Department and admission is free.

Deputy D.A. Lois Scampini, From S.S.F., Resigns Post

Lois Scampini, a deputy district attorney since 1959, is leaving the office after this week to enter private practice with the Redwood City law firm of Goth, Dennis & Aaron.

Miss Scampini of South San Francisco, went to law school nights while teaching classes in Italian, Spanish and history at South San Francisco High School. She was admitted to the practice of law in January of 1959.

As a deputy district attorney, Miss Scampini has handled civil assignments.

During an appearance before the County Board of Supervisors yesterday on a legislative matter, Dist. Att. Keith C. Sorenson said he regretted losing Miss Scampini and told the board, "You won't find a better lawyer in this county."

Bandits Threaten Women

Two armed men held up the International Inn in South San Francisco early Sunday morning and escaped with $590 after threatening to shoot two women employes at the motel.

The pair entered the lobby of the motel on South Airport Boulevard about 3:40 a.m., police said, and told night clerks Shirley Ann Ray and Wanda Slinker to place money from the register in a folded newspaper.

One of the men branished a large automatic pistol.

The man with the gun approached the counter and told the clerks "this is a holdup. Don't say anything, don't move, and don't make any noise."

The motel night manager, Clayton Ross, was in an office at the rear of the lobby when the men entered the building. One of the bandits ordered Ross to lie on the floor after threatening to shoot the two women "if you try anything funny."

Before leaving the motel lobby, the holdup men ordered the two women into the room with Ross and forced them to lie on the floor, also, police said, and warned all three not to move "for at least 10 minutes."

They walked out the front of the lobby, and the motel employes telephoned police when they could no longer hear footsteps.

Both men were described as white males in their mid-twenties. The one who "did the talking" was approximately 6-feet, 2-inches tall and very thin. The other man was about 5-feet, nine-inches tall and weighed about 180 pounds.

The International Inn is located directly across Airport Boulevard from the Holiday Inn, which was held up last week for the third time within six months.

BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY — Isabel Cavitt of San Bruno receives a loving cup in recognition of outstanding bravery, from Andrew D. McCabe, general manager of Interstate Hosts San Francisco International Airport operation. Miss Cavitt, 21, was honored for singlehandedly thwarting a recent attempted armed robbery at the snack bar in the airport's south terminal. When ordered to hand over the keys to the cash register, the five-foot tall 100-pound waitress replied by hurling a pot of boiling water at the gun-toting bandit, who then turned and fled.

Teddi Higgins Is Judged Miss Pacifica for 1967

By WILL THOMAS

Teddi Higgins, a 22-year-old University of California student who hopes to be an anthropology teacher, became Miss Pacifica of 1967 Saturday night, only a few minutes after her co-beauties named her "Miss Congeniality."

An estimated 2,000 witnesses to the spectacle jammed Terra Nova High's gymnasium sat through the contestants' parade of bathing suits, talent and evening gowns, and the suspense of one-by-one elimination of five runners-up.

Eleven girls started the pageantry. The field was narrowed, not rapidly to six finalists (five originally had been destined for final consideration, but judges were unable to pare the entrants to that number), who were called upon for impromptu conversation.

First runner-up in the contest was Aleena Branson, an 18-year-old Terra Novan who wants to be either a dental assistant or an airline hostesss.

Cheri Gibbons, 18, Oceana High student who has acting aspirations, was second runner-up.

Donna Underwood, a Terra Nova 18-year-old student who wants to be a social welfare worker, placed as third runner up.

Fourth runner-up was Jo Peeples, 18, Oceana, who hopes to be an airline hostess.

Sue Ford, 18, a College of San Mateo music major, was fifth runner-up.

The crowd's tensions broke . . . into a mass roar, when Julian Cohn announced Miss Higgins' selection.

Cohn's suspensefull announcement of the 1967 Miss Pacifica only was barely audible over the applause and shouts of apparent satisfaction that surged from the audience.

Cohn, credited with the naming of Pacifica, has presided over the presentation of awards, which includes the top prize, since the colorful pagemant was initiated 11 years ago.

He called all the entrants "Queens".

Miss Higgins, wearing an evening gown of her own creation — a sculptured A-line design of yellow and white banded lace scoop neckline, with a wide band of yellow satin around the hemline and a yellow satin bow—took the decision with a bright, broad smile; yet with a look of total surprise.

Miss Candy Troy, Miss Pacifica of 1966, who had taken her place on the throne earlier, placed the sparkling crown upon the new queen's head.

Miss Higgins, her eyes glistening—perhaps tearful—circled the half-moon-shaped stage of yellow, then uttered a soft, though broken "thank you" to all, before returning to her throne, to be mobbed by other contestants and other well-wishers.

The joyful Miss Higgins, her radiance overwhelming the fatigue of a long week of preparation and a lengthy, though happy Saturday, sat beneath an over-sized crown. On each side of her chair was a hanging, lighted chadelier. A pair of white pedestals bearing red American Beauty roses flanked the throne.

Judging was based on bathing suit, 25 per cent; talent, 50 per cent, and evening gown, 25 per cent.

The beauties made their first appearance in identical bathing suits, with Theresa Roberts, Miss Pacifica of 1964, the narrator.

This followed an overture by the Jack Fisher Orchestra, opening welcome by Pageant Director Stan Vander Hule and introduction of master of ceremonies Bill Gordon and the judges.

Between the swimsuit and talent competitions, 11-year-old Rosemarie Nickerson, Miss Little League Princess performed a balle dance.

Miss Higgins sang "Who Will Buy" from Oliver, as her part in the talent contest.

An added attraction from the pageant-goers was the appearance of the San Franciscans, a Bay-Area barbershop quartet, whose harmony was well received.

The efforts of Bill Gordon, television personality-master of ceremonies, was lauded, as he joshed with contestants, stagehands and co-officials of the pageant.

A special award was presented pageant director Vander Hule by the Pacifica JayCees, Vander Hule accepted a plaque signifying the Junior Chamber of Commerce's "Community Achievement Award."

The award for selling the most pageant tickets went to contestant Limda Hildreth.

Judges for the event were Carolyn Bergamaschi, head consultant for the Miss San Francisco Pageant of 1966; Edward Bauer, Half Moon Bay publisher; Sal Lima, executive dircetor of Miss S.F. Pageant and controller of Alec Shopping Centers; Nan Murphy, director of Patricia Stevens Modeling Agency and School; and Jack Kosslyn, drama studio coach.

Miss Higgins, as a result of her triumph, will receive two scholarships totalling $1,100, fashion wardrobe, a $50 U.S. Savings Bond and numerous other gifts.

1st Grass Fire Of Season

The north county experienced its first grass fire of the season Sunday.

San Bruno fire units were called out early yesterday afternoon to combat a small grass fire along San Bruno Avenue.

Cause of the blaze, which was quickly extinguished, was under investigation.

Oceana Wins Place in State Speech Meet

Two Oceana High School students placed among the top winners in the recent California State Speech Tournament last week at Santa Barbara.

Rebecca Pointer took fifth place in the girls' oratorical analysis division, and Deborah Smith placed eighth in dramatic interpretation.

Finalists in the statewide tournament at Santa Barbara were selected from district competitions throughout the state, and students from 718 high schools were competing in the event.

LESLIE E. PEEK

Leslie Ellsworth Peek, 73, of 380 Esplanade, Pacifica, died May 8 at St. Mary's Hospital.

A native of Michigan, Peek had resided in Pacifica about one year. He was a retired National Guard employe and a veteran of World War I. He was a member of the Pacifica American Legion Post, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Graveside services were held Friday at Golden Gate National Cemetery, with San Bruno Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

He is survived by his widow, Grace, of Pacifica; three sons, Gerald, Pacifica; William and John, Michigan; a daughter, Mrs. Jo Hazel Elsenheimer, Michigan; brother, Willard, Miami; sister, Mrs. Barbara Strobel, Michigan; 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

RAYMOND D. BALDWIN

Raymond D. Baldwin, 43, of Pacifica, died May 8 in a San Francisco hospital after a brief illness.

A native of Minnesota, Baldwin lived in Pacifica about eight years. He was an employe of the Laguna Salada Union School District, and had retired from the United States Marine Corps.

He was a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict.

Baldwin was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters and the California School Employes Association.

Services were held Monday from Nauman and Lincoln Chapel, with burial in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, Jean; two sons, Earl and Donald, and a daughter, Rayora Baldwin, all of Pacifica; foster mother, Mrs. Mae Sevain; foster sister, Mrs. Barbara Frodshan, Utah; sister, Mrs. Dorothy Dawson.

He is survived by his widow, Ellen; two sons, Michael, of Belmont, and Harold Fadden, U.S. Navy; one daughter, Mrs. Judy Plate, San Mateo.

P-TA Plans Style Show On May 18

Oceana High School's P-TA will hold a pattern fashion show Thursday, May 18 at 8 p.m. in the cafetorium. McVogericity, Patterns for Fashion 1967, is the title of the clothing department's 5th Annual Fashion Show.

Patterns from McCalls, Vogue, Butterick, and Simplicity will be modeled by over 100 girls. Girls in the fourth year clothing will be modeling their own designs — a new attraction this year.

The scene will open with three girls looking through pattern books, recognizing and telling about things their friends have made. The commentators will be Jenny Adams, Mary Ann Rentmeester, and Sue Borras. The script was written by Mary Gotschall. This is her third year of writing the script for the fashion show.

Many girls are organizing the fashion show, besides modeling their fashions. Mary Gotschall, Janice Scroggie, and Sue Borras are writing the script.

The secretaries are Judy Harney and Mary Rentmeester. The stage committee is headed by Jerry Buchanan and Joyce Brunger. Cathy Smith and Louise Bradley will help backstage. Mary Botting and Kathy Burns are in charge of publicity.

Programs are being handled by Sandi Matthews and Ellen Simonini. Debbie Ervin and Pat Maloney will be helping the models. The hostesses are Jackie Shores and Kathy Alexander. Joanne Fix and Jerry Brackett are in charge of food.

Refreshments prepared by the foods classes will be served after the fashion show.

S.S.F. Girl Tops Student Award Race

Mary Seubert, a senior at South San Francisco High School, has been named winner of the Outstanding Student Award in the annual program sponsored by Bay View Federal Savings and Loan Association, in co-operation with the statewide California Savings and Loan League.

Miss Seubert receives a $100-cash award and an engraved medallion on behalf of the local thrift and home-financing institution.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Seubert, 224 Northwood Drive, South San Francisco, 18-year-old Mary was voted best-all-around girl in the senior poll and is active in both drama and chorus. She plans to attend college and major in English and history preparatory to a career in teaching.

C of C Sets Bertucelli Testimonial

Former South San Francisco Mayor Frank Bertucelli will be guest of honor May 25 at a testimonial dinner sponsored by the city's Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber Mgr. Frank Fairbanks said Supervisor Robert St. Clair will be guest speaker at the dinner, which is being held "in appreciation for the excellent contributions Bertucelli made to the city during his recently completed term as mayor."

The dinner will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Elks' Club at Hillside Boulevard and Chestnut Avenue in South San Francisco. Tickets can be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce office at $6 each.

Festival In SSF Set By Boys' Club

South San Francisco Boys' Club International Festival Parade will march June 3, it has been announced.

Charles Oakes, promotional chairman for the Festival advised any service organizations, private clubs, public and private school clubs or interested groups in the Bay Area to send in its entry blanks as soon as possible and can be obtained by sending a postcard to "Parade," 100 Cherry Avenue, South San Francisco.

The parade route goes from the foot of Grand Avenue at Airport Boulevard to Orange Avenue, past the reviewing stand to the SSFBC at Orange Avenue and Memorial Drive.

Plans for the parade include a celebrities section, marching units, color guards, decorated floats using an international theme, antique and customized automobiles, Miss International Boys Club Festival Queen and her court, a special section for entries from Boys' clubs and many more.

Rummage Sale At Moose Lodge

The South San Francisco Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge 2064 will hold a rummage sale May 20 at their lodge hall on Grand Avenue.

Proceeds from the sale will go to the Moose orphans' fund.

Youth Held In Store Theft

A 17-year-old Daly City youth was arrested and sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center for allegedly stealing more than $397 from the Cycle Center, 6565 Mission Street, last week.

Police said the money was taken from an unlocked desk in the office of the company and subsequent investigation led to the arrest of the unidentified boy.

SSF Cubs Advanced

Cub Pack 77 of South San Francisco held its recent monthly meeting, with advancement ceremonies.

Kevin Cavanagh and Kevin Frolli were taken in as Bobcats.

Arrow points were earned by Brad Parres, Ronald Piazza, Paul Chauvin, Richard Lucy, Mattew Werner, Bruc Lum, Kevin Jetton and Costas Vellis. Kevin Lethco received his one-year pin.

Every Child A Scientist

Who are our future scientists? Here's a clue — they're the kids who like to collect.

Does your eight-year-old boy have a hoard of rocks in a carefully guarded cigar box? A potential nuclear physicist.

Does he have a private menagerie of frogs, spiders, snakes and catepillars on the back porch? A budding biologist.

Does he like to mix salt, water colors, dirt, soap and ink in a bottle in the basement? A chemist coming up.

And so on — through a whole list of different kinds of interests. One day a boy may be a potential Einstein, the next a future Pasteur. But, if he has the urge to collect and this is not discouraged, he is one thing for sure — a potential scientist of some kind.

All children are curious about the world around them. They are avid to learn. They want to possess rocks, bugs, snakes, match coveres, etc., to satisfy their curiosity and, in a sense, to control something of this big, strange world.

Give your child the opportunity to ramble in the world of nature, teach him to have an observant eye and a questioning mind — and let him collect things to his heart's delight. If you do, and if you can help him keep his enthusiasm by not making fun of what he does, you may end up with a scientist in the family.

The Marquee

Jewel Role

Barbara Bladen

Ernie Borgnine, here recently in the comic role of the slop sportswriter in "Odd Couple" was back in San Francisco last week to talk about his role in the M-G-M film, "Dirty Dozen."

We were so thoroughly thrilled about the war story, involving 12 imprisoned men chosen for an almost assured fatal assignment behind German enemy lines at the near conclusion of World War II, that the jovial actor nearly got buried in a barrage of praise for the all-star cast, story and direction.

It's hard not to launch into a rave review of the picture, we're that excited about sharing such a superb film with our readers, but the critics saw it at a special screening followed by an elegant banquet at the Blue Fox Restaurant later and since it won't open in the Bay Area for at least four or five months, we'll hold our accolades until the right moment. But be ready to read glowing reports and I'd be willing to put my money on Lee Marvin for next year's Academy Award with a supporting vote for John Cassevetes.

Borgnine doesn't have a large part but regards it a privilege doing cameos for such a good director as Robert Aldridge ("Flight of the Phoenix," "Hush, Hush, Sweet Charlotte," and "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane").

"'McHALE'S NAVY' TELEVISION SERIES afforded me the luxury of taking cameo roles. I want to be a free agent, not on contract to any one studio. I got sold down the river once by a bad contract, which I broke, but it cost me half a million dollars to do it," the heavy-set actor explained.

He's in favor of television series because it gives him the chance of working five days a week. "I want to try different roles. I envy Peter Sellers because he does such a variety of things. He can be cast as an Arab or anything, but he never really plays anything but Peter Sellers."

Film buffs will remember that his portrayal of "Marty" was a turning point in the film industry. It brought about the realization that big gross box office successes can be made on a small budget with unknowns. It's been a popular trend ever since. But when Borgnine is mssing from local screens, it's not because he isn't working. He works all the time, both in America and Europe.

"I was born in the United States but brought up in Italy and speak the language fluently. So naturally, I can find work in that country. I made the first Italian western called "The Brigades." My ambition is to work with directors from every country. It's been working out fine for me."

There's a new television series in his future. It's based on the Wallace Beery, Jackie Cooper idea of Billy and The Kid and is a strong possibility for next season.

BORGNINE CAME INTO MOVIES by way of the legitimate theater. He was for years with the Barter Theater in Abindgon, Va., where they did 14 shows in a season, including tours. Instead of paying for tickets at the box office, patrons bartered for admission with foodstuffs which went to feed the cast. This was subsidized by a $25,000 state grant and an anonymous millionaire.

The company still exists. Aside from Borgnine's participation, its claim to fame is that the company toured to Denmark and performed "Hamlet" at Kroneburg Castle, where the play is set. Borgnine played Guildenstern.

"The Odd Couple" that he did last month at Circle Star Theatre is the first stage play he's performed since 1951. "Dirty Dozen" is his third assignment with Robert Aldrich, who he claims can extract depth of character from an actor he doesn't know he possesses. Their first work together was "Vera Cruz," followed by "Flight of the Phoenix," (another excellent film in my book) and now "Dirty Dozen." They begin work soon on their fourth, "Legend of Lila Clare," about a Hollywood actress portrayed by Kim Novak, who dies under mysterious circumstances.

SSF Lawman Sees Tremendous Change

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is "National Police Week," and the South San Francisco Police Department, in keeping with recent tradition, will hold "open house" each day through Saturday. Tours of the police facilities and displays for public exhibition have been prepared by members of the force. In an interview, veteran Police Sgt. Vernie Esparza describes changes in the policeman's lot since he became a law enforcement officer 19 years ago.

By DON GRIERSON

South San Francisco Police Sgt. Bernie Esparza was a policeman when everybody in town knew the cop on the corner by his first name and "when somebody's kid got into trouble, you straightened him out and turned him over to his parents."

Reminiscing over his 19 years with the department this week, Esparza said the job has changed tremendously since he joined the force, "but I still wouldn't trade it for anything else."

"In the old days, a policeman's word was law, and there is no comparing the public attitude toward law officers at that time to the situation today," he said.

Some of the more notable changes in the policeman's job have been in the area of juvenile matters, according to the veteran officer.

"We turned down young men applying for jobs on the force here every month because they have police records," he said.

"Today, a kid gets his name on a rap sheet for doing things which would have been taken care of by his mama and the neighborhood policeman a few years ago."

"Also people call on the police department to settle many things they used to take care of themselves," he said.

The South San Francisco Police Department had no juvenile division when Esparza joined the force.

"We didn't have a crime laboratory or a detectives division either. In fact, we had only 10 officers altogether. Patrolmen did their own investigating."

Patrolmen also served in a variety of other capacities, ranging from family counselor to medical aid and ambulance corpsman, and their day seldom ended at the end of an eight-hour shift.

More and more specialization, with emphasis on "categorizing everything that comes into the station," has been the basis for much change in the policeman's job," Esparza said.

"When I joined the force, patrolmen spent vitually all their time patrolling a beat, and the only paper work involved was the writing of citations and preparation of report sheets."

"Now, many officers spend 30 to 40 per cent of their time on paper work," he said.

Though he sometimes longs for the days when a policeman's job was "done on a more personal basis," Esparza agrees city's needs have changed.

"The bulk of our work prior to the mid-fifties consisted of patrolling the old Bayshore Highway," he said, "and things were usually pretty quiet except on weekends when there were football games at Stanford."

South San Francisco's population has multiplied since that time, and the city's law enforcement needs "have increased at an even greater rate than the population."

The resulting specialization in a policeman's duties has ruled out much of the informality which prevailed in earlier days, he said, "and this is unfortunate for both the policeman and the public."

There have also been many changes in the department's training program since Esparza served his apprenticeship as a "rookie."

"The newest man on the force back then was assigned to the dispatch radio, and he simply remained on that job until another new man was hired."

Though more haphazard than the department's present formalized training program, the system apparently worked.

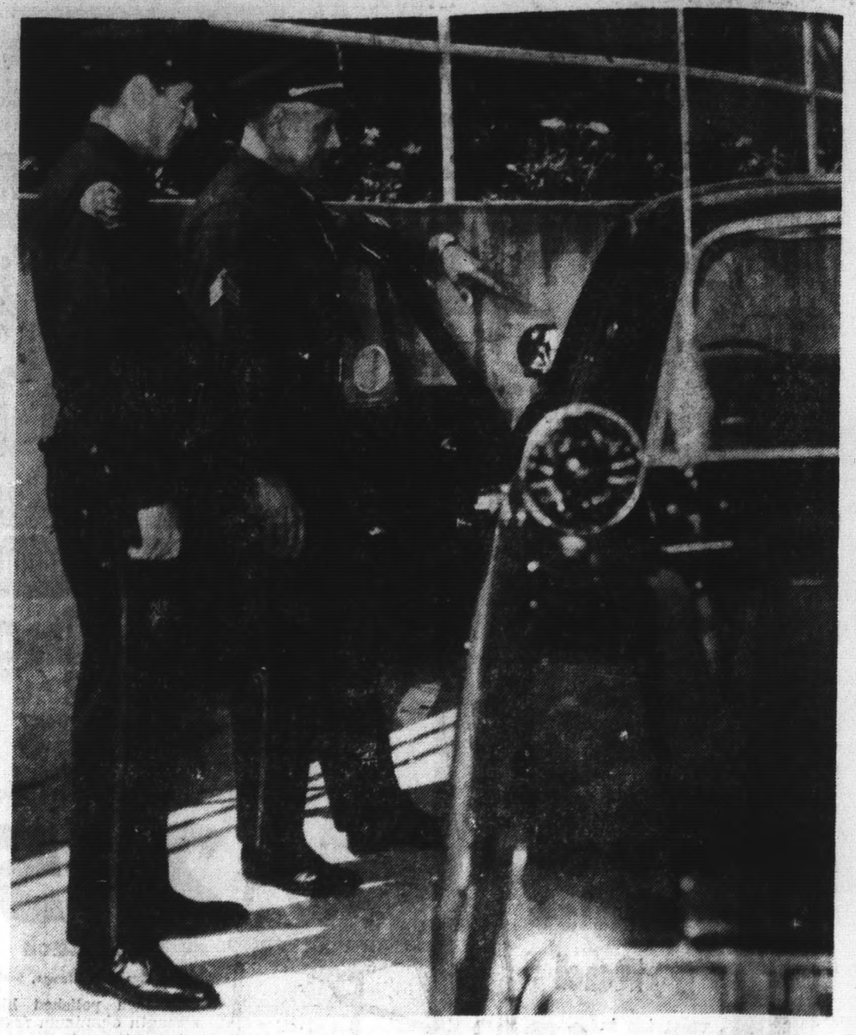
"I remained on the dispatch desk nearly two years," he recalls, "and by the time another new man was hired I had a pretty good idea of what it was all about."

This system is no longer practical, with more than 50-men on the force, and one of Esparza's primary duties now is "roll call training" for the rookie officers each morning.

"The training is better today," he said, "and the young recruits, generally speaking, are of a higher caliber than they ever were before."

The department today stresses education in selecting prospective policemen, and jobs are awarded on the basis of competitive examinations.

"There is more to being a police officer today than just wearing a size 12 shoe," the sergeant said.



VETERAN SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO Police Sgt. Bernie Esparza explains some of the intricate equipment in a modern police car to rookie Ronald Petrocchi, the department's newest recruit. Esparza and other members of the department are conducting National Police Week tours through Saturday.

IT'S ABOUT TIME someone, somewhere made up their mind exactly where that Superior Court is going — South San Francisco or Daly City.

Let's face it, Daly City's the answer!

There is already a vacant building (the old city hall) on Wellington Avenue that could be used for the purpose.

Down South City way a Northern Judicial District Court and some officials down south want to stick a superior court judge there (two muni, one superior) and move a muni judge to D.C.

☆ ☆ ☆

IF THAT ever happens, it will cost far more than necessary. Because the superior court judge has his own staff and the muni court would require its own staff in D.C. — a dupilcation if there ever was one. Many attorneys have already come out in support of establishing a superior court in the North County and D.C. officials — from the mayor on down — have offered use of the Old City Hall.

Question is: How long must a person travel all the way to Redwood City on superior court matters?

POST BEAUTY TIPS — Rinda Rivers, a contestant in the recent Miss Pacifica beauty pageant, was advised by her doctor to cut out the Charlseton portion of her act in the talent category, but like a real trooper she went ahead with her pantomime (I Wanna Be Loved by You . . . poopoo bedoo) — with pneumonia!

And Donna Underwood, the third runner-up in the contest, was asked what her three choices would be if she were stranded on a desert isle? Said Donna:

"My bible for self-assurance; a little food; and something constructive to do so I wouldn't get fat."

☆ ☆ ☆

AND THAT'S FINAL — Pacifica Councilman arrived at their "umpteenth" FINAL DECISION on a site for the proposed new police station last Saturday — once again choosing the Laguna Salada School District property adjacent to the present city hall. City Manager Bill Masonheimer will now attempt to "renegotiate" a deal with the school district.

The transaction fell through when first attempted a few weeks ago because the district's appraisers felt the old service garage and bus parking lot was worth a few hundred dollars and more than the city's $42,000 offer.

BOGEY COUNTRY — That twelfth annual Daly City Chamber of Commerce Golf tourney to be held at the exclusive Lake Merced Country Club is off to a flying start with more than 188 dufferes already signed up and raring to tee off. Although costs have gone up since last year's successful tourney, chamber Manager Pete Markovich has kept player cost to a minimum ($20 which includes dinner, etc.) It promises to be another fine chamber event.

And speaking of sandbaggers (YOU weren't, but WE were) guess who scored low gross with a 66 at Crypress Hills GC the other a.m. If you answered with the initials P.M. (of the D.C. chamber P.M.'s) you win a handful of broken tees.

BRISBANE ELECTIONS — The Brisbane City Council hasn't accepted the results of a recent recall election against Councilman Jess Salmon (who won hands down). By a 3-2 vote, the council decided last week to check the legality of the many write-in votes Salmon garnered in the election. The Brisbane Citizens for Civic Progress (BCCP) has even sent a letter to the county Grand Jury asking the entire election be looked into, according to Luman Drake, spokesman for the vocal group.

☆ ☆ ☆

Personification Of California Youth

Samuel Chandler

Today meet Wirdley Smith and Relmond Jones, who were created to personify California youth.

Their odd first names were invented by their fathers, Henry Smith and John Jones, who have trouble because they share their names with many other men.

Wirdley is a loveable guy with blond hair in a crew cut. "He is sometimes wrong." Relmond has dark hair. He is not wrong as often as Wirdley.

Wirdley says didncha or didnchoo; cancha or cancho; woncha or wonchoo; tolja or toljoo. When he tries to say sheep shouldn't sleep in shacks he sends Relmond, who pronounces his words clearly, into a spasm of laughter. In one instance Wirdley's girl friend deserts him because she can't understand him when he says, "Relmond's going' to the libery to study histry."

POOR WIRDLEY doesn't prepare his lessons, yet complains he can't understand "things like other kids." But when he is in class he seeks to cover up his ignorance. In one episode we find him responding to the teacher's question "What is a comma?" with "uh-uh-well it looks like an aprostrophe sitting down."

Wirdley doesn't use punctuation marks; "they just get in the way." In one of the episodes of his rough life he blatantly declares, "I can't see any use for hyphens"; so Relmond gives him twenty-five dollar bills rather than twenty five-dollar bills.

Because Wirdley uses "can't never" and "it don't make no difference" and because he uses good when he means well and like when he means as, his father compares him to a swimmer who has a bowling ball tied to his ankle.

WIRDLEY forgets to make introductions when his associates are strangers. He loves to write poetry, but complains that he doesn't know any words. After a night of struggle he comes up with "Roses are red — violets are — uh-uh-uh—violet."

His masterpiece is "Always remember to write with caps—the proper nouns you find on maps."

One of his best episodes finds him saying to Relmond, "Here's what I can't figure out, why is shake, shook, shaken right, but not rake, rook, raken?"

RELMOND is a patient friend. When Wirdley asks, "Was there any girls?" Relmond says, "Were there any girls?" One episode finds him helping his friend with tricky spelling by writing—

"Wirdley's spelling is queer;
He spells entirely by eer.
Boats dock at a peer
A globe is a spheer
And anything far is not neer."

BUT, AH! finally Wirdley gets his revenge. In utter frustration because of the condition of his new suit, Relmond says, "It don't fit!" and Wirdley, in a moment of triumph, laughs, "It certainly don't."

Wirdley and Relmond appear in "Building Better English," a series of text books that have been adopted by the California State Department of Education. Each of the episodes that I have quoted may be found in book seven.

Better Business

Renters Can't Get Deposit Back

Lorene Beasley

A persistant complaint heard by the Better Business Bureau is the failure of landlords to return cleaning and breakage deposits, so-called security deposits.

Most renters agree that a cleaning-breakage deposit is justified as a protection to the landowner from excessive wear and damage to his property by careless tenants.

However, the renter has a right to expect a fair return of his deposit money. He had been promised, either in writing or verbally by the landlord, that his deposit, which can range from $25 upwards to the equivalent of a month's rent, will be returned to him if the house or apartment he vacates is left in good condition, normal wear and tear excepted.

TENANTS tell of the many hours spent in conscientiously cleaning apartments only to be frustrated in getting their deposit returned. An attorney specializing in real estate law once stated. "What is filthy to one person is clean to another." It is indeed a moot question and it is in this area that landlord and tenant seem to differ, honestly or otherwise.

One complainant said he had used the services of a reputable professional maintenance firm upon the termination of his lease but was refused the return of any part of his $125 deposit.

Another complainant who had lived five years in an apartment during which time no maintenance work had been done, was refused the return of his $130. Other complainants were told that their deposit would be mailed to them from the head office or the apartment house. In too many cases no refund was ever received.

NOT ALL landlords are involved in such practices. It does appear, however, that a number have been using security deposits for the normal upkeep of their buildings.

At present there is no association of landlords or apartment house owners in this area. If a tenant or landlord, and there are two sides to a story, feels he or she has a justifiable complaint, he can take it to the Lawyer's Reference Service.

This service maintained by 140 members of the San Mateo Bar Associaton will give upon appointment one-half hour's service for the fee of $7.50.

Presidents Of PTG's To Meet

Presidents of 19 affiliated Catholic Parent-Teacher Groups on the Peninsula will be installed as members of the San Mateo County PTG Council, May 23, following a 12:30 p.m. luncheon at Hillsdale Inn, San Mateo.

Other incoming officers of these units will also participate in general installation ceremonies, with the Rev. Bernard A. Cummins, superintendent of schools for the archdiocese of San Francisco, presiding.

Mrs. Neil Altizer, Burlingame, outgoing president of St. Dunstan's Women's Club, Millbrae, will be chairman for the day. St. Gregory's Women's Club, San Mateo, under Mrs. Clarence Soucie of San Mateo, retiring president, is in charge of decorations.

Plans for the June 5 workshop for new officers and chairmen will be announced by Mrs. William Stretch, San Mateo County president. The workshop will be held at St. Matthew's auditorium, San Mateo.

"FOREIGN FOOD and Fashion" will be the theme of the annual mother-daughter luncheon sponsored May 20, at 11 a.m., by the Women's Society of the Seacliff Community Church, 50 Northridge Drive, Daly City. Discussing plans for event, to feature Mrs. Esther Esther Schneider as guest speaker, are (left to right) Diane Poehleman, Mrs. Roy Erford, Mrs. William Buttolph, Mrs. Jose Pardo and Mrs. Richard Medina. District Scout Appreciation Event in D.C.

The Serra District of the San Francisco Bay Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its first annual district appreciation dinner tomorrow at the Jefferson High School cafeteria.

Dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Dinner reservations are being taken by Don Davis.

The program is under direction of Edward Morgan, assisted by Robert Evans.

Mayor Bud Lycett will install the new District Officers and the new district chairman, Municipal Judge Paul Hupf.

Many Scout leaders will receive awards and recognition for their service to Boy Scouting at the dinner. Judge Bernard Glickfield will present special awards to various scouters for their help in the Sustaining Membership Program.

Opening and closing ceremonies will be conducted by Boy Scout Troops 351 and 369.

Entertainment will be by the Daly City Community Chorus.

The affair is under the direction of Alfred O. Belotz, chairman of the Serra District.

'Summer Fling' Style Show Theme Chosen

"Summer Fling" is to be the theme of the June 7 YWCA dessert-fashion show, co-chairmen Mrs. Raymond Peters and Mrs. Robert Washford announced this week.

The fashions of "Celestine" of Skyline Plaza shopping center will be modeled.

Festivities will begin at 1 p.m. at the Lake Merced Sports Center on Lake Merced Boulevard.

Tickets are priced at $1.75 and are available at the YWCA office, 375 S. Mayfair, Daly City.

Nursery care is planned for this event at the Sports Center for a modest fee.

Pacifica Church Plans Dinner, Dance May 27

A "Mamas' and Papas' Dinner Dance" — to be held midway between Mother's Day and Father's Day—is scheduled for May 27, at the Parish Hall of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica.

Cocktails are set for 6:30 to 7:30, to be followed by a chicken dinner.

Live music, by the Rich Landi Trio, will be provided for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The public is invited and tickets may be purchased for $3 a person from the sponsors, members of the Italian Catholic Federation.

Ticket chairman is Margaret Chiarenza.

Society Elects Miss McDonnell At UC Campus

Lorraine McDonnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. McDonnell of Wilshire Avenue, Daly City, has been elected treasurer of Panile, the sophomore Women's Honor Society at the University of California at Berkeely.

Chorus Is Seeking Members

For those interested in choral music, the Daly City Recreation Department sponsored Community Chorus can eb the key to an enjoyable evening out, Recreation Supervisor Patricia Lessard, said this week.

This group combines social activity with singing for fun and performance. The Chorus rehearses at Westmoor Park Clubhouse at 123 Edgemont, Daly City Thursdays, from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Two performances are slated for the group this month. The Community Chorus will sing at the Scottish Rite Temple tomorrow at dedication ceremonies for the new Daly City City Civic Center Saturday.

Faculty Women To Hold Tea

Mrs. John Summerskill, wife of the president of San Francisco State College and honorary president of the Women's Faculty Club, will entertain the group at her home at tea on Friday at 1:15 p.m.

This will be the last meeting of the academic year.

Auditions For 'Dracula' Are Being Conducted

The Spindrift Playhouse in Pacifica is continuing auditions for roles in "Dracula" this week.

Open tryouts for two female characters and one or two male actors are being arranged by appointment with Nathaniel Marks, director.

This mystery thriller which has pleased audiences during the past 40 years, still is good theatre and a challenge to any actor or stage technician, Marks said. Further information may be had by phoning him at 355-3565.

The play concerns a strange anemia in the daughter of a physician, who calls a Dutch colleague in consultation. They focus their inquiry on a Count Dracula, who is disclosed as a vampire.

While the story is well known, the highly tense action is aimed to keep the audience fascinated, those who already have tried out agree.

Camp Film Showing Set

"Achavah Means Brotherhood" is the title of a color film describing the day camp of the Brotherhood Way Jewish Community Center, to be shown at the Center on Thursday, at 10:45 a.m.

The 20-minute movie will be followed by a question period, with camp staff present to participate in the discussion.

Camp Achavah is conducted from June 26 through August 25, and children may be enrolled for one or more three-week sessions.

The Center is located at 655 Brotherhood Way, near Daly City.

Sisterhood To Elect Officers

The Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel will hold its regular meeting on May 22 at the home of its President, Mrs. Julius Michaelis, 81 Glenbrook Avenue, Daly City.

There will be elections of officers, to be presented to the general membership.

A Sisterhood Sabbath will be held at 8:30 p.m. Friday, when the Congregation will pay tribute to the members who have contributed to the welfare of the organization.

Members of the Sisterhood will participate in the service that will be conducted by Cantor Jeno Friedmann.

PHYLLIS DILLER (left), shown with Mrs. Murray H. Freedman of Daly City, will join Bob Hope, Chuck Conners and Lee Marvin at Friday's USO benefit at the Masonic Auditorium in San Francisco. Mrs. Freedman (PL 5-8981) may be contacted in the Daly City region for tickets.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By Donald C. Waite

WHAT SHOULD YOU DO WHEN YOU READ ABOUT FURNITURE TRENDS?

Furniture trade publications, decorating magazines and newspapers are constantly featuring articles about the new trends in furniture styles, decor, fabrics and finishes—and they are very confusing.

One story said there's a great swing to Early American while another said the big thing is the Spanish influence. Another said the trend is definitely to English traditional and still other stories said the same thing about contemporary, Italian Provincial or the designs of the 1930's.

One article told of the popularity of large patterns in fabrics while still another said that geometric or tiny florals were the thing.

The only people who really have to be concerned with so-called trends are manufacturers whose operation must be governed by statistics, and retailers who must supply the demand in particular areas.

Many years ago when bleached and blonde finished modern furniture was the big trend, many people furnished their homes accordingly only to find a short time later that the trend had died and that their home was dated.

So forget the trends and furnish your home with what you and your family really like best. Here's the most important thing to keep in mind.

Remember that good design never goes out of style and that good taste is timeless.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, are at our service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience or call PL 6-7500. Copyright

Terra Nova TOPICS

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

Next year's plans are the main theme for this week's campus activities.

Aspiring pom-pon, mascot, and cheerleader candidates for next year are presenting their routines to panels of faculty judges this Monday, Tuesday, and today. This follows a ten-week training period in which this year's Spirit Staff instructed candidates in the basics of pepping it up. Candidates who pass through the judges will appear before the student body next week to compete for election to next year's Spirit Staff.

Meanwhile, candidates running for next semester's student body offices are actively campaigning around campus. They will give their campaign speeches to the student body at today's nominations assembly. Elections will be held tomorrow.

NON-EXISTENT on the TN campus is an unsuccessful drama production. The four recent performances of "Arsenic and Old Lace," this year's hilarious senior play, followed the pattern faithfully.

Nursery's Benefit Set

"Spring Modness" is the theme for the Village Nursery School's fifth annual fund raising dance Saturday from 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. at the Moreles Hall at 209 Miller Avenue, South San Francisco.

Village, a non-profit parent participation co-operative nursery school for three-five-year-olds has put an all-out effort on help to raise funds for re-landscaping the playyard.

Three grand prizes will be awarded in addition to 80 "balloon" prizes at the dance, most of which were donated by the local merchants in Daly City, South San Francisco, Colma and San Bruno, according to Mrs. Ray MacDonald, dance chairman, and Mrs. Don Bandoni, assistant chairman.

Mrs. Jay Danzig, in charge of decorations, has the girls working on a gay "Mod" theme, with hundreds of balloons, mobils, and featuring an art gallery displaying the childrens creative work.

The annual Spring Dance provides the greatest source of revenue to operate Village for the coming school year and helps maintain reasonable tuition.

Dancing Slippers

Louanne Heath

DUST OFF THOSE dancing slippers, freshen the crease in your husband's "tux" and hurry to call Mrs. L. Warren Price, 756-2851, for your reservations to the Mary's Help Hospital Guild's Fuchsia Ball.

This Saturday is the big semi-formal dinner dance which has become such a high point in the spring social calendar and Mrs. Clifton D. West, the publicity chairman, reports that only a very limited number of tickets remain unsold. As usual, the Hilton Hotel's Continental Ballroom will be a mass of lovely color with the fuchsias and ball gowns competing for the honors in "most eye-appealing."

MRS. WILLIAM CORBETT, the chairman of the ball, and her hard working committeewomen have extended an invitation to everyone interested in the Mary's Help Hospital to attend for the proceeds have been pledged toward the construction of the intensive coronary care unit at the hospital. The guild has pledged a total of $150,000 for the project.

The tickets, which are being sold for $25, will insure guests of an elegant dinner, valuable prizes, and an evening of dancing to the music of a top orchestra.

The menu consisted of such delicacies as Chicken Teryaki, rice sea weed and tangerine sherbert, eaten with chopsticks.

The Westside Teens went to the Marin Town and Country Club for "fun in the sun," May 13.

Annual Meeting For the Friends Of DC Library

The Friends of the Daly City Library have invited the public to their annual meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Coral Room of the Westlake Library.

A program will be presented by the San Mateo County Historical Society.

Dr. Frank M. Stanger, author of "South From San Francisco," a widely read history of San Mateo County, will be introduced by Librarian Samuel Chandler as the moderator of a panel discussion of Daly City's living history.

Panel members will be longtime residents and descendants of early settlers of this community who have formed the Daly City Historical Committee to prepare a history of Daly City.

Some of their material has been bound into several books, already in the library.

After a brief business meeting, a gift check will be presented by President Mrs. F. L. Walter to the Library Commission to be used for the purchase of a suitable gift to the Library. The gift was made possible by the Friends' recent successful Book Fair.

Mrs. Harry B. Green, chairman of the nominating committee, will submit a slate of officers to be voted upon by the membership. Since this meeting is being held during the annual membership drive it will afford an excellent opportunity for prospective members to meet the Friends and see them in action.

The Friends will hold the last book review of the current series on May 25 in the Coral Room of the Westlake Library at 10 a.m.

The speaker, Stuart Boland, Librarian of the Chinatown branch of the San Francisco Public Library, is a well-known personality in the Bay Area, who gives a morning report on word usage on KCBS radio.

Boland will speak about basic American philosophy as it is presented by such writers as Emerson, Benjamin Franklin, Thoreau and Henry Adams.

He plans to follow the ideas put forth by these men long ago to the present time.

For instance, the theory of civil disobedience which Thoreau discusses in Walden can be traced down to today's protesters and their philosophy.

Boland, born in New York, attended Columbia University. He has a degree in political science, and his master's degree in Library Science from the University of California at Berkeley.

The public is invited to the review, to begin with a coffee hour from 10 to 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. William George and her committe will be hostesses.

May Festival This Friday

The Vista Grande PTA will hold their annual May Day festival at 11 a.m. Friday.

Student folk dancing will begin at 11 o'clock, followed by a hot dog lunch at noon.

Following lunch, game booths, sewing booths, cake sale and a special white elephant rummage sale will be open for parents and children.

Slow Readers S.S.F. Tutors Aid

A unique reading improvement project utilizing South San Francisco High School students as tutors in a program for elementary children has proved to be an effective means of aiding slow readers in the early grades, school officials reported this week.

Mrs. Kay O'Malley, reading improvement teacher at the high school, and Los Cerritos Elementary School Principal, Emanuele Damonte said the program has been extremely successful since it was inaugurated in January.

Each student in Mrs. O'Malley's class is in charge of tutoring one elementary student in reading skills each Tuesday afternoon.

The elementary children selected to participate, mostly first and second graders, are all students with reading problems.

Each high school student participating in the project is responsible for preparing lesson plans, tests, and other instructional activities, and must also maintain records of his student's progress.

The high school reading improvement class voted to conduct the tutoring program at the close of the first semester this year, Mrs. O'Malley said, and the project will continue until May 23.

High school students are selected for the reading improvement class on the basis of competitive examinations, and undertake an intensive study of comprehension, speed and vocabulary building.

Street Hearing Is Not So 'Routine'

What was expected to be a routine public hearing on the widening of San Pedro Road in Daly City was disrupted Monday when the attorney for one of the adjacent landowners threatened to take the matter into court.

Leonard Berger, attorney for Anthony Luceti, said his client's medical center at 66 San Pedro Road would lose several parking spaces and require extensive reconstruction if the proposed plans for the widening were approved.

Present plans call for an eight-foot-wide sidewalk in front of the medical center. An adjacent bicycle shop would be heavily sliced to make way for the road project, making it a substandard lot.

"The bone of contention here seems to be the eight-foot-wide sidewalk," Berger pointed out. "we will lose approximately five spaces if a six-foot walk is built and at least seven spaces if an eight foot walk is constructed."

City engineer Arthur Reschke said the eight-foot-sidewalk was necessary to beautify San Pedro Road with four-foot planter boxes.

"We have no objection to beautifying this road," Berger said, "but visitors to the center will have to park in the street — creating a hazard. And cost of additional acquisition for this sidewalk seems high."

The $191,000 joint city-county project is being paid for out of gas tax money and no assessment will be levied against adjacent property owners, Reschke explained.

The sidewalk and width of road lanes varies along the two block length of San Pedro Road.

In one section, the sidewalks are ten feet wide and the lanes 11.5 feet wide, while in another section the sidewalk shrinks to eight feet and the lanes expand to 12 feet.

Harry Weglan, owner of the bicycle shop, revealed he was acceptable to "going along with any deal" the city might arrange between him and Luceti regarding the possibility of acquiring additional parking spaces for the medical center.

Councilman Ed Dennis ventured "the bicycle shop may sell their land once it is declared substandard after road improvements are in" and asked that the public hearing be left open "until the matter can be negotiated further."

Supervisor To Address Demos

San Mateo County Supervisor Jean Fassler of Pacifica will speak at the Daly City-Colma Democratic Club meeting at 8 p.m. today in the multi-use room of the Garden Village School, 208 Garden Lane, Colma.

Mrs. Fassler, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, will speak on affairs of importance to North County residents.

The meeting is open to the public.

In recent action the Daly City-Colma Democratic Club has urged Governor Reagan to rescind his plans calling for budget cuts and massive personnel dismissals affecting California's mental health hospitals and clinics.

Club president Don Solem pointed out that reductions in the average daily patient load has occurred because of improved drugs and more intensive staff care of patients.

Players To Stage 'Androcles'

The Pacifica Players will present George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion" May 26-27 and June 3 at the Oddstad Center on Crespi Drive.

Bill Gornik of San Bruno has been cast as Androcles, and Aubrey Lumley, a veteran of numerous Pacifica Players productions, will play Caesar.

Nancy Catton, president of the players' group, is Androcles' nagging wife, and Kyle Catton will play the warrior Ferrivious. Mike Haggarity has the romantic lead as a Roman captain.

Patricia Ostovar plays the captain's lover.

Jean Young, director and star in a number of past productions, is directing "Androcles."

Primarily a comedy, the play is set in Rome during the early days of Christianity. Utilizing the ancient myth from which he took the title, Shaw makes some caustic observations about religion which are still applicable today, though the play was written 50 years ago.

The players recommend this production for children. The Roman soldier costumes are very colorful, and scenes involving the waltzing lion invariably delight the younger theatregoers.

Tickets for the production may be purchased at the door, or from Charlene Amick. Each presentation will begin at 8:30 p.m.

3 Teen-agers Arrested In Burglaries

Daly City police arrested three teen-agers last week for burglarizing Westmoor High School earlier this month.

The trio, ranging in age from 13 to 16 years old, was sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center following their arrests.

Police said the youths entered the school through an unlocked door last week and stole an assortment of art teaching aids, including six paintings, oil paints, brushes and small burners.

The room was also extensively damaged by the boys, police said.

Journalism Pupils To Be Honored

Journalism students from 19 San Mateo county schools will be honored May 19 for outstanding contributions to their school publications.

The students will receive plaques designating them as "Most Valuable Staffers" for the 1966-67 school year. The awards will be made at a dinner to be held at the Villa Chartier. The schools' journalism advisors, principals and district superintendents will be present to acknowledge their students' achievements.

This will be the second annual "Most Valuable Staffer Awards' night. The program is sponsored by The Times newspaper and the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

"This program recognizes the talents of aspiring young journalists and hopefully gives them the impetus to continue their education," said Walter Jack, Times vice president.

Times editors and management personnel will act as hosts for the evening's dinner and program.

Award winners and their high schools are:

Mark Atkinson, Aragon; Bruce Labadie, Mark Boudart, Woodside Priory School; Kim Davis, Terra Nova; Jim Pappas, El Camino.

Debbie Slack, Mills; Marcie Smith, Carlmont; Gregg Atkins, Hillsdale; Linda Boscono, Crestmoor; Kathy Dougherty, Pescadero; Marilyn Cummings, Westmoor; Kathleen Fulwider, Oceana.

Bonnie Fisher, Capuchino; Elaine Ceranlik, South San Francisco; Patti Barron, Menlo-Atherton; Marilyn Terhune, San Carlos; Sue Loder, Burlingame; Monica Bay, Notre Dame; Nancy Atkinson, San Mateo; Connie Shimada, Jefferson.

Nuclear Engineers Study Devil's Slide

Devil's Slide on the San Mateo County Coastside is one of many places being studied for the stability of its rocky slope by the U.S. Corps of Engineers Nuclear Cratering Group.

This is part of the Atomic Energy Commission's "Ploe-share" program for developing peaceful applications of nuclear explosives technology, according to Ronald J. Kley, research technical operations officer for the NCG at Lawrence Radiation Laboratory in Livermore.

Essentially, this preliminary study is to help determine stability of slopes in many types of geological formations. Right now, Kley went on, he's attempting to document as thoroughly as possible, both the nature and possible causes of various slope failures, including some over the years at Devil's Slide.

"The Nuclear Cratering group of the Corps of Engineers studies engineering problems and develops nuclear excavation design criteria for large scale civil works projects (canals, highway cuts, harbors, etc.). One of the engineering problems confronting us is the question of the long-term stability of excavated slopes in various geological media.

"We currently are studying a number of major excavated slopes in open pit mines, quarries, railroad and highway cuts, etc., in order to define, as precisely as possible, the geological factors responsible for their stability.

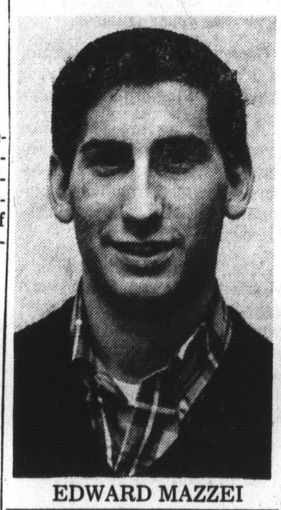
The Devil's Slide area has been included in our study since it came to my attention, a few weeks ago, during the course of a weekend flight along the coast. Since that time, representatives of the group have visited the locality to make geological observations and measurements regarding the condition of the slope."

This study, pursuant to a Presidential directive, is considered necessary because not much is known about how the various earth formations would stand up to nuclear blasts used in construction. Only known examples, in fact, are those at the White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico, and that isn't much to go on, Kley said.

Mazzei Nominee For an Honor

Edward A. Mazzei of South San Francisco has been selected as College of San Mateo's nominee for the "California Junior College Merchandising Student of the Year" presented by the State Department of Education.

Mazzei was chosen by merchandising instructors at the college. They described him as a young man "who has a sound understanding of himself, has a keen sense of personal responsibility, knows what he wanted to achieve, and feels a real enthusiasm for merchandising." Harry F. Clinton, instructor in the merchandising program, and William A. Janssen, also a teacher in the business division, made the announcement.



EDWARD MAZZEI

A sophomore alumnus of South San Francisco High School, who will be graduated with a merchandising major in June, Mazzei is employed by the G. Mazzei and Sons Hardware Store in San Francisco. He is an honor student at CSM. He lives at 533 Eucalyptus Avenue.

Brisbane Sets Flower Show

Brisbane's Second Annual Flower Show will beheld August 19 and 20 at the Natalie Lipman School Auditorium.

The Show will be officially opened to the public by Miss Brisbane at 11:30 a.m. August 19.

An added attraction this year, will be a separate junior division for children, aged five to 12 years.

Mrs. Byron Jensen is general chairman, assisted by co-chairman Mrs. Lillian Echols.

3 From DC Win Degrees

Three Daly City men will receive AE degrees at graduation exercises to be conducted June 13 at Cogswell Polytechnical College, 3000 Folsom Street, San Francisco.

They are William Barry, Richard Montafi and James Krider.

The exercises will be held in Morrison Auditorium at the Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park.

The college also announced that fall semester registration will be held the last two weeks in both June and August.

Rose Is Post Plant Of Week

Stop a person on a street in any city in the United States and ask them to name a flower. The chances are very good that the answer will be: "a rose."

Unquestionably, the rose is one of the best known, and admired, flowers in the United States today. It is also one of the most widely grown plants in home gardens.

What does the rose mean to most people: gorgeous flower colors, a velvety texture to the petals, strong stems to hold the flower tall and stately, and quite often a distinctive aroma. To the professional nurseryman, the rose means even more. According to graden experts at the American Association of Nurserymen, the rose is one of the most rewarding and versatile plants that can be included in the home landscape plan.

Here are just some of the landscape uses for the rose: As a hedge or as a property boundary planting; As a complete border of mixed colors for all-Summer enjoyment; On a trellis as a screen to block an unsightly view with a blaze of color; Interplanted with a fence to break up the "mechanical monotony" of the man-made feature.

To fit these various landscape situations, the gardener has at his disposal various types of roses. Following are general descriptions of these broad groupings of roses and how they can be used.

HYBRID TEA: This is the most widely grown rose. It comes in a wide range of colors and is distinguished by bearing single flowers on long sturdy stems. In the garden, Hybrid Teas can be used in a mass border or as specimen plants to give flowers throughout the Summer. The plants will grow upwards to five-feet tall. This is the rose that is grown by the hobbyist rose fancier.

FLORIBUNDA: Clusters of several flowers at the end of a stem characterize this type of rose. Most are lower growing than the Hybrid Teas, reaching a height of two to three-feet. Another feature of this rose is the large number of flowers it produces. Often, the entire plant can appear as if covered with blooms. This is the rose that is often suggested for a "flowering hedge" as it can even be kept somewhat "formal" in appearance. Masses of floribunda roses in a border are also a striking sight. It is recommended, when planting as a border, that several plants of the same variety be grouped together rather than planting singly.

GRANDIFLORA: Clusters of large flowers and a robust, tall-growing plant are the features of this class of rose. Many times, grandiflora roses can be used as background shrubs as they lend height and density, as well as color. They are also useful in the mixed rose border.

CLIMBERS: The trailing nature of this rose, plus the quantity of flower clusters, make it one of the more picturesque garden plants. The long canes can be trained in many fashions. Quite common is the climbing rose on a trellis. Several on a large framework will act as a screen. Trained on a post-and-rail fence, a climbing rose can be a garden accent, and add a touch of color to a sometimes "necessary" feature.

There are other "types" of roses available at nurseries such as "tree" roses, which have a tall stem with a rose plant grafted on top, and the "shrub' rose which is an improved wild rose.

A place for roses should be requested of the professional who plans your overall landscape. He can help you select varieites that are most suitable for your particular home grounds and to your color preference.

Making Up For Drop-Out Cookies

Nell Norton

Well, good cooks and gentle reader, the column started off in a blaze of goodness last week, with that recipe for those delicious Pineapple Crunchies.

But then what happened?

Lots of methods for mixing cookies, but no list of ingredients? Ah me, it even confused me, and I wrote the column.

It seems that after the pages left my hot little hands, they passed into many other hands and in the passing, the most important of the recipe fell out—Tsk!

What to do?

The only thing is to start again and give you good cooks a chance to try that terrific trio of recipes that Mrs. Barbara Jonhson, who lives at 1939 Forty-seventh Avenue in San Francisco, sent me.

☆

THE FIRST RECIPE was for a different type of Brownies, combining cream cheese with chocolate and resulting in a delicious treat.

GERMAN CREAM CHEESE BROWNIES

- 1 package (4 ounces) German sweet chocolate
- 5 tablespoons butter
- 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 eggs
- ½ cup plus 1 tablespoon unsifted flour
- 1½ teaspoon vanilla
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup coarsely chopped nuts
- ¼ teaspoon almond extract

Melt chocolate and three tablespoons butter over very low heat, stirring constantly. Cool. Cream remaining two tablespoons butter with the three ounces of cream cheese until softened. Gradually add in one egg, one tablespoon flour, and one-half teaspoon vanilla until blended

Beat two remaining eggs until fluffy and light in color. Gradually add remaining three-fourths cup sugar, beating until thickened. Fold in one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt, and remaining one-half cup flour. Blend in cooled chocolate mixture. Stir in the one-half cup nuts, one-fourth teaspoon almond extract, and remaining one teaspoon vanilla.

Measure one cup chocolate batter and set aside. Spread remaining chocolate batter in a greased nine-inch square pan. Pour cheese mixture over the top. Drop measured chocolate batter from tablespoon onto the cheese mixture; swirl the mixtures together with a spatula just to marble.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes. Cool. Cut in bars or squares. Cover and store in refrigerator. Makes about 20 brownies.

☆

THIS NEXT RECIPE for Dream Bars is the kind of recipe you good cooks dream about. They are easy to mix and make, the ingredients are the ones that most of us have on our baking shelves all the time and the results are delicious.

"Can you ask any more of a cookie than this?"

DREAM BARS

- ½ cup butter
- ½ cup brown sugar
- 1 cup flour

Combine the one-half cup of butter, one-half cup of brown sugar, and one cup of flour. Mix until crumbly. Press into the bottom of a 9x13-inch baking pan.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 10 minutes. Cool while you prepare the filling.

FILLING

- 2 eggs
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1½ cups coconut
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Beat the two eggs, the cup of brown sugar and the teaspoon of vanilla together. Combine the two tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder and sift over the 1½ cups of coconut and one cup chopped nuts. Fold into the creamed mixture.

Spread this filling evenly over the baked bottom and bake in a (375-degree) oven for 20 minutes. Cool and cut into bars.

☆

THIS LAST RECIPE from Barb is a joy also. Again the ingredients are simple and the result is a cookie that is quite plain, but most tasty. Rather like a shortbread but not so short.

Some afternoon when you are having the neighbor gals in for a bit of chewing and chatting, whip up a batch of these cookies and serve them with the coffee and tea. Your guests will love them, and so will you, because they are so easy to make and so tasty.

SUGAR COOKIE STRIPS

- ½ cup shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ¼ cup light cream
- 1 cup flour
- Dash of salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder

Cream the one-half cup of shortening and one cup of brown sugar, add the two beaten eggs and the teaspoon vanilla. Beat well. Add the one-fourth cup light cream. Next, sift together the one cup flour, dash of salt and one teaspoon baking powder. Blend this into the creamed mixture.

Bake in a greased 9x12-inch pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes.

Garden Study Club Installs

Bowers of Flowers, in spring and summer flower demonstrations, was presented at the Burlingame Woman's Club by Mrs. Henry Dolezal of Ripon, a national accredited judge, exhibitor in the master class, and a vice president of California Garden Clubs, Inc. The special program was planned for the annual installation of officers of Garden Study Club of the Peninsula.

Officers to serve with Mrs. Bausch for the coming year are Mrs. Frank K. Runyan, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Busher, second vice president; Mrs. Lawrence R. Burmester, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Patchett, recording secretary; Mrs. a. A. Norton, historian; and Mrs. Chas. Russe, treasurer.

S.S.F Pastor At Convention

The Rev. Irvin Tweet, pastor of Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church in South San Francisco, and Larry Nelson, an intern at the church, are attending the 1967 South Pacific District Convention of American Lutheran Churches in Phoenix, Ariz., this week.

The convention began Tuesday and will continue through Friday.

Among the topics to be taken up at the meeting of 500 church delegates are "responsible reproduction" and "Inter-racial marriage."

Farm Experts Are Honored

The professional contributions to the nursery industry by two Peninsula area farm advisors have been recognized by the California Association of Nurserymen. Both men have been accorded Research Memberships in the 56-year-old Nurserymen's organization.

Peninsula Chapter of the State names of these men to the C.A.N.'s board of directors for approval at the group's annual meeting held recently in Carmel. The directors granted a total of twenty-four statewide research memberships for the year.

Honored by the nurserymen were Peter J. Lert, Santa Clara County Farm Advisor; and Henry Sciaroni, San Mateo County Farm Advisor.

Old Records Topple In Mid-Peninsula

By GARY WHITE
Post Correspondent

If Mid-Peninsula Leatue track and feld athletes continue the improvement they have shown the past few days, their rivals in the North and South County may as well stay home from the Region 1 meet Saturday at Sequoia High School.

In the MPL trials last week, good marks set in qualifying competition included a 14.9 high hurdles clocking, 49.6 for the 440, 1:59.3 in the half, a 4.33.8 mile and 1:30.1 in the 880 relay.

The quality of those marks along with the record book, took a beating, however, in championship finals at Burlingame High School, similarly shot down by some of the finest performances in county history.

Led by Randy White, a multi-talented youngster who ran the fastest quarter-mile of any San Mateo County prep athlete ever, the Mills' Vikings dominated the meet to take the 1967 MPL track championship with little opposition.

Undefeated in dual meet competition, Ed Parker's classy clan from Millbrae took it all as they rolled up 71 points for the varsity title, while Capuchino managed 52 to edge San Mateo for second.

White seemed to set the theme for the meet when he won the high hurdles, first race on the day's program, in the meet record time of 14.4—thereby equalling a season's best mark he last achieved in all-comers' competition back in February. And as good as young Randy's effort was, he just barely beat Al Giacosa, his hard-striving teammate, to the tape.

Shortly after White's hurdles triumph, Capuchino's Damon Paoli set another MPL standard by winning the 880 in 1:56.1, thereby setting the stage for White's most impressive performance of his career.

Fighting off the gutty challenge of Cap's Jim Kauffman, who has pushed the versatile Viking to his best quarter-mile marks, White sprinted the one-lap race to a sensational 48.7 clocking, smashing the old meet record of 49.9 set no less than a dozen years ago. Kauffman also ran a season's best for the event, 49.0, which would have won by countless yards in lesser seasons. Aragon's Fred Klinger and Paul Cretan also beat the old meet record, respectively trailing their rivals with identical 49.3 clockings.

White and Kauffman have both signed letters of intent to Stanford, which may help the sagging track fortunes of that school considerably in the next two years.

Other varsity meet records included the mile, where San Mateo's Dave Madigan, a sophomore, ran to a 4:20.9 first place, and the 880 relay, where Capuchino's foursome anchored by Kauffman came home in 1:29.8.

While Kauffman "only" finished second to White in the 440, the Mustang three-sport star had an impressive day by scoring 23 points, nearly half the Cap total. He won the 220 in 22.7, took first in the long jump with a 21-9¾ mark, and came from three places back on his leg of the relay to enable his team to finish second in the meet.

Although highly pleased with White's record-breaking efforts, Parker gave special praise to other members of his title team.

"Mike Barr, a junior, really turned the tide in what could have been a very close meet when he upset the field in the 100," he said, "and then he came back to take second in the 220. Of course," Parker added, "Giacosa added a lot with a victory in the low hurdles, second in the highs and third in the high jump. Then there was Pat Ramirez who threw a lifetime best mark in the shotput to take second."

Although Capuchino won the Class B meet, 70½-69 over Burlingame, a Panther thinclad took the spotlight. Joe Whytock, a 5-2, 98-pound wrestling champion, thrilled the big crowd with a 9:44.2 clocking in the two-mile.

Cap also took the Class C crown with a 55-53 edge over their San Bruno rivals, the Crestmoor Falcons. The issue was not settled until the 880 relay, which the Mustangs won by one-tenth of a second over the Falcons.

Westlake Bowl

By JAMES GREALISH

Steve Pistone averaged over the 200 mark for four games in the opening game of the Country Club Handicap Trio League as he rolled games of 194-212-215 and 186 for a total of 807, at Westlake Bowl.

In another four game trio league, Dave Pansini rolled a 799 total series. Dave had a high game of 221 as he topped the 510 Scratch Trio League.

Bev O'Leary led the French Bros. Invitational League for the week shooting a 194 game and 552 series. Betty LeVesque converted the extremely dificult 6-7 split while Marge Griffiths picked up the 5-10 and Rita Cashman the 5-8-10.

The Westlake Boosters Club is really catching on as more and more bowlers are looking forward to the bowling-buffet, bowling-brunch, picnic, etc., in addition there is a reduced rate of open play bowling during the summer months. The only requirement for membership is being a member of a summer league at Westlake.

ALMOST one hundred junior bowlers under the direction of Junior Director Marge Brown will journey to Sacramento July 22 to compete in the annual California State Junior Tournament.

Travelling by chartered bus, many will leave at 7 a.m. Saturday, returning Sunday. Others will travel by private cars for the weekend of bowling competition.

The team event will be bowled Saturday morning while the boys and girls will bowl doubles and singles on Sunday. To help finance the trip, our juniors will hold fund-raising projects during the coming weeks.

☆

BOOTS TOOHEY again topped the Monday evening Starlighters Summer League with a four game total of 642. Boots had a high game of 187.

In the Monday afternoon Blue Chip Bonanza, Dot Mize led the winners by taking home 1480 stamps followed by Idele Newell with 1120, Shirle Beale with 750, Mickie Ellis with 630, Barbara Payne with 600 and Elise Ferrell with 550.

Sam Haar topped the B'nai B'rith League for the week shooting a 205 high game and 537 series.

Dave Hicks rolled a big 247 second game on his way to a 608 series to lead the Westlake Knolls Summer League for the second consecutive week. Dave's other games were 180 and 181.

The Ghiozzi family took top honors for the week in the West Portal Merchants League. Lou posted a 162 game and 453 series while Aldo led the men with a 607 series on games of 167-265-175.

☆

IN the GET League, Esther Dehnert led the ladies with a 174 game and 501 series as Bill Strong was the leading man, shooting 219 and 597.

Are you a Westlake Booster? If not, you should be.

Val Franz topped the san Francisco Naval Shipyard Mixed 4's League for the week as he shot a 205 game and 595 series. Second honors went to Ling Wong for a 204 game and 478 series.

The Safeway Summer Sleepers League had two new leaders for the week, Joan Penburg with a 146 game and 412 series and Hank Fernandez with 203 and 511.

Jean Kornfeld led the ladies with 170-484 and Louie Perma led the men with 198 and 538 in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives League.

Rae Magness shot high game of 188 and Gloria Goggiano held seres of 491 in the Morning Glory League. Bobby Crimele converted the 2-10 split, Barbara Varesco the 3-8 and Tess Merlo the 3-7.

☆

SHOOTING a big 205 game and 533 series, Opal Arnott led the Tuesday Rebels for the week.

An even 500 series with a high game of 192 gave Miki Ellis leading lady honors in the St. Emydius Belles.

The Funny Farm Five team took the championship in the Southwest Handicap with the George Baba Construction Company team taking a close second.

Falcons Edge Aragon High In Thriller

After assaying the scrambled Mid-Peninsula League baseball pennant race for several weeks, the Crestmoor High School Falcons have finally decided to post their bid for the title.

Coach Steve Gehre's crew moved to within a game and one half of leading Cap last week by edging Aragon, 4-3, on the winner's diamond.

A three-run outburst in the bottom of the sixth inning rallied Crestmoor from a 2-1 deficit and enabled the Falcons to post victory number four against three losses.

In the big sixth, Grant Johnson opened the frame with a single. After one was down, Duane Jackson and Mike Kohles both walked to load the bases. Al O'Brien then singled to drive in Johnson and tie it up, 2-2. Sophomore Mike Garrett followed with another single to drive in Jackson and Kohles to give the Falcons a 4-2 lead.

Aragon picked up a run in the top of the seventh and had the tying run on base when pitcher Dennis Dickey got the final Don batter to pop out. Dave Nelson walked, was sacrificed along to third and came home when Bob Irish singled.

Crestmoor had taken a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning when Jeff Dirking was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on a fielder's choice and scored on Steve Waskey's single.

The Dons battled back to gain the lead, 2-1, on only one hit in the top of the second. Bob Tallman was safe on an error top open the frame. Another error on Bill Rasnic's sacrifice bunt put runners on first and second. Mike Gillespie then moved the duo along to second and third and another miscue enabled Tallman to score. Bob Ellison's single brought in Rasnic for the final run of the inning.

Crucial NPL Game Set May 23

Something has to give in the torrid North Peninsula League baseball pennant chase, but the contending teams failed to yield in a full schedule of games played yesterday.

South San Francisco, El Camino and Jefferson all won their games as the Loop's three top dogs continued on a collision course with a virtual elimination tournament in the waning weeks of the season.

Due to a make up game scheduled for May 23 between South San Francisco and Jefferson and regularly scheduled clashes between El Camino and Jeff (May 12) and South San Francisco and El Camino (May 19), the contenders will settle in all in head-to-head combat before the month's over.

Jefferson continued to plow along, a scant one-half game off the pace of the Warriors and Colts with an extra inning 3-2 squeaker over Oceana on the Shark's diamond.

After playing to a 2-2 stand-off over the regulation seven innings, the Indians took full advantage of horrendous defensive play by their hosts to nail down the win.

Russ Runge led off the Jefferson eighth wti a single to left. On an attempt to steal second, the Sharks handed the Tribe the win with trumpets blaring. The throw to second went into center field and when Runge tried to make it to third, the return throw from the outfield sailed over the hot corner to give Jeff the winning run.

Errors played a big part in El Camino's 3-0 victory over Terra Nova and were also influential in Half Moon Bay's 5-1 demise at the hands of South San Francisco.

El Camino managed but three htis all afternoon against Terra Nova but made them good for three counters when the Tigers contributed two fielding miscues, both overthrows of second on double steal attempts that had been set up by walks.

The Colts only earned run came in their first at bats when Dan Tyler walked, stole second and scored on Frank Lucia's single.

South San Francisco, hurting for pitching after playing three days last week, put regular third baseman Bruce Brian on the mound and the hot-corner specialist came through with a six-hit victory.

The Warriors used two walks, an infield error and a bases loaded double by John Dougherty to score three times in the first inning to give Brian all the cushion he needed. Striking out two and walking one, Brian was never in trouble in coasting to the win.

Slim-Trim Classes Open

New members are being accepted in the Daly City Recreation Department's Women's Slim Trim classes this week.

The classes meet each Tuesday and Thursday, 9:30-11:30 a.m. in the War Memorial Building.

Activities include badminton, calistenics and volley ball.

New SFSC Athletic Director

Dr. Gerald B. Wyness, associate professor of physical education at San Fernando Valley State College, has been appointed athletic director at San Francisco State College, President John Summerskill announced this week.

Dr. Wyness will take over the post vacated in 1964 at the death of Joseph J. Verducci, popular Daly City leader who held the position for many years.

Allan Abraham, assistant professor of phsyical education and head wrestling coach at San Francisco State, has served as interim athletic director since Verducci's death.

Dr. Wyness has been a member of the San Fernando Valley State Faculty since 1962. He has served as both teacher and football coach.

Falcons Beat Westmoor, 7-6

Crestmoor High School, riding the big bats of Steve Waskey and Mike Kohles, defeated Westmoor High, 7-6, in a practice game on the latter's diamond last week.

Waskey drove in a run for the Falcons on three separate occasions. Kohles, in addition to picking off three runners trying to steal bases, unloaded a two-run double to highlight Crestmoor's big four-run third inning.

Larry Grant was the winning pitcher.

Carmine Pitches Mates Past S.M.

Capuchino is again on top in the rather vague 1967 Mid Peninsula League baseball race, relying on a bit of San Mateo's wildness to attain first place.

The Mustangs jumped out to a 4-0 lead and then repelled the repeated bids of San Mateo to hang on for a 4-3 victory on the winner's field Friday.

The important win gave Cap a 7-3 mark in the MPL, putting them a half-game ahead of San Mateo. The Bearcats, wo had taken over first place Tuesday, slipped down into the second spot with a 5-2 mark.

Cap scored one-run in the bottom of the second and then came back in the next inning to cross the plate three times to gain the impetus for the victory.

In the second frame, with two down, Ray Petsche singled, stole second and tallied when John Bjorner stroked a single.

In the third, Cap's Mike Costanzo started the big rally with one out when he crashed a long home run over the left-field wall. With two down, Russ Pape singled, Roger Carmine walked and Norm Clevenger hit an infield single to load the bags. Jerry Neary then walked, forcing in Pape and Petsche followed with another free pass to force in Carmine with the deciding run.

The Bearcats rallied in the top of the fourth for four runs. With no outs, Greg Bissett singled. Bob Smith then walked and Mike Prieto hit a home run over the left-field fence to account for all of San Mateo's runs. However, Carmine settled down and got the next three batters out.

Carmine went the distance for the Mustangs to gain credit for the victory, giving up only three hits while striking out nine Bearcat batters.

Meanwhile— Back at The Snail Race

A Snail Race was held recently by the Daly City Recreation Department at the Vista Grande Playground.

One hundred sixteen snails were entered for the competiton, which was a 10 minute Marathon foot race.

Each snail was headed in the right direction and with some coaching and green leaves placed in front of them, they were off and crawling.

Willy Spark's snail, Number 72 and named "Robin," placed first with a distance of two feet four inches traveled in ten minutes. Second place went to his sister's snail, "Dragonfly," and third went to Ronald Auderburn's snail, "Pee-Wee."

Finishing last was Clifford Gretch's snail, "Sea and Sand," which went one half inch and his other entry was disqualified when someone stepped on it.

Ribbons were awarded to the first 10 winners.

Bulldogs Blanked In Meet

Junior college track stars of the West Coast Relays head for College of San Mateo Saturday morning for the Northern California JC championships at 11 o'clock. Trials in all events will be held Wednesday afternoon at Modesto JC.

Northern California Jaycees got the edge on their Southern Cailfornia brethren at Fresno, taking nine of 17 first places, producing the team champion in Allan Hancock College, and the outstanding JC athlete in Hancock sprinter James Hatcher.

College of San Mateo was shut-out at Fresno Saturday — but had its best performance in events dominaetd by Southern Californians and therefore expects to do better this week.

Bulldog freshman Ted Lydon ran a fair (for him) 9:28 two mile but finished only ninth. Pasadena CC's Darold Dent (9:02.6) led a SouCal sweep of all five places.

CSM might have had a contending team in the distance medley relay, except that race followed the two mile and therefor Lydon was unable to run the anchor mile. Willie Stephens led off with a 3:12.8 for the 1320 and Frank Romo ran a 50.1 quarter, but after that CSM dropped from contention, although till finishing a respectable eighth in the state-wide field.

Hancock, with national record holder Neill Duggan running a 4:07.2 anchor mile, won easily in 9:55.2, just 1.8 off the national JC record. Hatcher electrified the crowd with a 46.1 quarter-mile second leg to bring the Santa Maria team from sixth to second. Hatcher ran on four winning relay teams as Hancock came within .4 of the national recodrs in both the 440 (41.3) and 880 (1:25.1) baton events.

The JCs for their first national record of the year in the two-mile relay. L.A. Pierce's balanced team ran 7:29.3, with Bob Hansen doing a 1:50.8 anchor leg, to smash Santa Ana's mark of 7:32.8.

San Mateo shot putters Roger Carlsen and Jeff Dunker were off their best performances, although both put over 50 feet. Dave Reuter of Fullerton won the event at 54-5½.

Fresno CC's Sam Davis took the JC 100 in 9.4, which was a tenth faster than ex-Castlemont of oakland star erry Bright (now of Arizona State) ran to win the open 100.

A Last Thrust At Basketball, Stats

Le Pacini

And, a last thrust at basketball season:

Final NCAA (University Division) statistics show Jimmy Walker of Providence had the best scoring average (30.4 against Lew Alcindor's 29), while Alcindor, playing two more games, scored the most, 870-851 . . . Alcindor had the best field goal percentage, .667; Santa Clara's Bud Ogden was sixth at .578 . . . UOP's Keith Swagerty was fourth in rebounding average (18.5), third in total rebounds. Surprisingly, Alcindor stood only seventh in average (15.5), fifth in total.

☆

INTERESTING team stats showed UCLA third in offense, averaging 89.6 points per game, behind Oklahoma City (96) and Northwestern (91.3) . . . Defensively, UCLA was sixteenth, allowing 63.7 per game. Oregon was sixth (59.6), USF twenty-second (65.5). UCLA was best in FG percentage (52), seventh in personal fouls.

But now comes the team statistic that explains why Alcindor was so relatively low in scoring and rebounding. UCLA had the highest margin of victory, beating opponents by 25.9 points a game.

That statistic — without even looking at Alcindor's total minutes of playing time — tells you that Lew often was out of games because so many were one-sided, and also, undoubtedly, that he must have unconsciously let up.

In the pros, Rick Barry scored 30 or more points in 56 of the 78 games in which he participated . . . He was closest to "perfection" of all the NBA All-Star Squad, garnering 88 of his possible 90 voting points.

And finally, Alex Hannum was quoted in a recent Sporting News as saying that the Warriors had the best chance to develop pro basketball's next dynasty.

BASEBALL THOUGHTS: We hope San Francisco writers aren't doing Kenny Henderson a disservice in continually reminding Henderson and Giant fans that Kenny is Willie Mays' probable successor. Being a big league rookie is tough enough without the added pressure of an eventual comparison with one of the game's greats.

Few have survived such an ordeal, Mickey Mantle being a notable exception (remember, he took Joe Di Maggio's place.)

What sports writers should do is let kids like Henderson develop into their own images and, most of all, forget about ever being lucky enough to have another Mays to write about in their lifetimes. A boy like Henderson could develop into an exceptional ball player and still not be up to Mays' standards. To remind him that he's "only" exceptional, but not great, wouldn't be fair to the kid or to the team.

ALL READERS of this column know we are a Babe Ruth fan, but as the old cliche goes, let's give credit where it is due. The excuse the Ruth fans (and we were among 'em) gave for Roger Maris in '61 was that he had the benefit of the new (then) 162 game schedule.

We have a feeling the excuse for Mays — if he does it — breaking the Babe's career record will be that Ruth wasted all those years as a pitcher, not starting as a "hitter" until his mid-twenties, while Willie had the benefit of a full career, beginning at age 19, of hitting homers. It may be a good excuse, but it shouldn't be allowed to tarnish Mays' record, if he gets it.

☆

HAVE YOU the feeling that the Giant-Dodger rivalry just isn't the same with the departure of Sandy Koufax and Maury Wills? The thrills, the achievement of having met and conquered the best, just aren't there now.

It sounds funny, but Koufax pitched twice as many no-hitters as he hit homeruns, four to two.

Those Kansas City clown uniforms are enough to make Alvin Dark revert to civvies and stay in the dugout, al la the most famous of the Athletics, Connie Mack.

With all the Giant farm success (they have more farm players on the varsity than any team in the majors) it's strange that they haven't come up with a real shortstop since Dark — and even he was from the Braves!

LOCAL NOTES: The Frank Ryan Quarterback Clinic, the first of its type designed for prep coaches and their QB's) to be held on the West Coast, will take place at San Francisco State College on Saturday, June 3.

Ryan, of course, is the Cleveland Brown quarterback who holds a Ph.D. in mathematics. Gator football coach Vic Rowen will host the one-day affair. Registration is at 8:30 in the Men's Gymnasium.

Five members of the '66 Gator football team have now signed pro contracts. As mentioned previously in this column, offensive guard Elmer Collett is with the '49'ers, and defensive tackles Terry Oakes and Lyle Baucom with the Bears and Redskins, respectively.

Latest signals are offensive tackle Kerry Patterson, with the 49'ers, and defensive back Jim Gray, with the San Diego Chargers. Gray is another one of those basketball players trying it with football.

THE SECOND ANNUAL Joe Verducci Memorial Track Meet for seventh and eighth graders of the Jefferson Elementary School District, recently, was a big success, with over 200 youngsters participating and several records cracked.

There'll be some changes made in the South San Francisco athletic department next fall. Athletic Director and football coach Ray DeJong will be giving up wrestling, basketball coach Bill Purcell will no longer be handling the "B's" and sophomore baseball coach Joe Schroeder will be on sabatical leave.

Terra Nova senior Mike Rist is fighting for the 132-pound division boxing title in the up-coming AAU boxing tournament at Sequoia.

Mike started boxing at the age of nine for the Vallemar Boys' Club and is now out of the Redwood City PAL under former lightweight contender and current Stanford boxing coach Ray Lunny, and Horace Samuelson, two-time senior AAU champ.

Terry Christman, the former Westmoor pitcher-firstbaseman who was signed by the Mets as a pitcher, switched to first, switched to the outfield, switched back to pitching, etc., is back in the outfield again for Jacksonville of the AAA International League . . .

Jim Fregosi, Angel shortstop, and Tim Cullen, Senator second baseman, who seems about ready to break into the regular lineup, both attended Serra High. It would be interesting to see a trade, because there would then be the first — to our knowledge —major league keystone combo from the same high school.

Pacifica Softball Play Begins With Two Routs

Pacifica's softball season got underway last week with five games being played in the Lob Ball League. All Slow Pitch League games were rained out, so both that league and the regular Softball League will have a few more days of practice.

Both opening games turned into routs, with the Killers playing the part in downing the Sears Service Club by an 18-8 margin, and the Sorethumbs besting the Bethlehem Lutheran Saints, 16-3.

Tom Dowd, Tom King and Lionel Vaughn all had four hits for the Killers, while Henry Katen led the Sears Service efforts with a perfect night at the plate, including a homerun.

The Sorethumbs gathered a total of 27 hits in their victory, with Doug Devolder and Len Mattei having perfect times at bat and Jay Fournet and Jerry Patterson adding grand slammers.

Teams settled down after opening day, with three close games, resulting. The Misfits squeezed past the Giants by a narrow 11-10 margin, with Ray Peters leading the winners with four hits.

Joe Cortesi sparked the Giant efforts with his homer in the 5th inning.

The Mariners and the Daly City Lions had a tight battle all the way to the sixth inning when Clay Thompson drove in the winning run for a 6-5 victory for the Mariners.

Greg Fassler led the way at the plate for the winners with 3 for 3, and Terry O'Neal and Don Wilson belted out homers. Dave Gehre paced the losers with three-for-three at the plate, including a round tripper.

After their opening day loss, the Bethlehem Lutheran Saints bounced right back to down the Seavue Realty squad, 10-8. Dave Shepard pounded out three hits for the winners in their final inning victory, while Dale Houck gathered the same number of hits for the losers.

Hospital Week Observed

Role of Mary's Help Is Outlined

National Hospital Week — May 7th through May 13th — is being observed throughout the Nation.

In Daly City, Mary's Help Hospital functions as a "City of Care" and is staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week to protect and restore health in much the same manner as the police and fire departments are on the alert around the clock to protect lives and property.

"The role of the hospital is changing," says Sister Louise, administrator.

"Since coming to Daly City in December, 1965, we have cared for approximately 12,000 bed patients and approximately 1,000 outpatients a month in the Emergency Department."

Like all hospitals, we are planning for the future when a full range of comprehensive community health service will be available, including such diagnostic testing as radioactive isotopes, together with extended care and specialized coronary care."

Sister Louise also said the use of computer technology will mean that, within a few years, sophisticated electronic instruments will be used to predict changes in the patient's condition before they occur.

All hospitals are concerned with costs, which are rising due to increases in salary levels, cost of constructing complex facilities, use of electronic equipment and an increasing number of more highly specialized personnel, she said.

Health services ranked as the nation's third largest industry in 1966, with expenditures of nearly 40 billion dollars a year, and may be the first by 1970.

At Mary's Help, the annual operating budget is approximately 5½ million dollars. Of this among, 68 percent goes in salaries for 576 employees. These personnel represent all fields of specialized service.

As population keeps rising, as hospital care keeps growing, and as the range of services keep expanding, hospitals have to attract, train and maintain an ever increasing number of personnel, many with highly specialized skills in new health care occupations, Sister Louise pointed out.

"Health services are now a rewarding field with a great diversity of choice of occupations and almost unlimited employment opportunity," she said.

Mrs. Adrienne Humphrey, Mrs. Joan Leong and Mrs. Clara Klaisner, Colma K-6 School first grade teachers, helped their youngsters count their chicks during their project.

County Reduces DC Aid

A project to provide general improvements for a Daly City neighborhood has been reduced by the County Board of Supervisors.

The board was persuaded Tuesday to delete work scheduled to be done on Second and Third Avenues but retained construction proposed for Hillside Buolevard and Market Street, about which there was no disagreement.

The proposed assessment project is the result of a petition submitted in 1965 by the Jefferson Elementary School District board and a group of parents, whose primary interest was a sidewalk on the west side of Hillside for the convenience and safety of students at Colma School, which is at Hillside and Market. The project expanded during the planning process, however, to include all of the unimproved area between Mission, Price and Market streets and Hillside. Daly City gave the county jurisdiction over the part of the area that is within the city limits.

Planned was an $83,000 project to upgrade streets, walks, curbs, gutters and sewerage, plus the installation of permanent signals at Market and Hillside.

Property owner Ricco Lagomarsino told the board, however, that unless the project were cut back, there would be "practically a 100 per cent protest." He said the work planned for Second and Third Avenues is premature because the work does not include the installation of water lines. It would be necessary, Lagomarsino said, to tear up the streets, curbs and sidewalks at a later date when the water lines went in.

The board agreed, and asked County Engineer Don S. Wilson to prepare new plans leaving out the work on Second and Third Avenues.

Wilson was also asked to speed up a joint project with Daly City for additional improvements on Market Street to tie in with work on the Guadalupe Canyon Expressway, which is scheduled for completion this year.

DC Woman Ranks High

Diane Warner, a junior social sciences major at California State Polytechnic College, Pomona, is among 870 students named to the dean's list for the winter quarter of the 1966-67 school year.

The 870 students represent 17.2 per cent of the student body enrolled for the winter quarter.

The purpose of the dean's list is to give quarterly recognition to students achieving academic excellence. To be eligible, a student must be enrolled as a regular student carrying 12 units or more and must achieve a 3.0 (B) or better grade point average.

Mrs. Warner, 25, is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Beasley of 150 Coronado, Daly City. She resides with her husband, Michael, at 37 Shaw Street, Mt. Baldy.

Chick Watching —Colma Project

Each morning the three first grades at Colma K-6 School watched their calendar and counted the days.

The children counted in anticipation of the hatching of their chicks.

Five dozen fertile eggs had been placed in three incubators and the first graders began their study of how chicks were growing inside the eggs.

At different stages of growth a few eggs were broken to show the development of chicks.

At last, the 21st day arrived and many baby Chicks pecked their way out of the shells.

Mash was brought to school, and soon many little yellow chicks began growing in these classrooms.

The three first grade teachers, Mrs. C. Klaisner, Mrs. J. Leong and Mrs. A. Humphrey, reported their students learned many new words, an understanding of where chicks come from and a respect for the feeding and care of pets.

Children's Exhibit At The Airport

Exhibits of children's art in hallways at San Francisco International Airport proved so popular in April that a new exhibit featuring offerings from ten school districts is being installed.

Airport aide Ben Gaines reports, however, that the new exhibit will be limited to the South Concourse, between the central and southern terminal buildings.

The north concourse, along the moving sidewalk, is being reserved for an expected display of the California Growers Association.

Other displays, with travel as a theme, will be used to brighten walls along corridors in the airport parking garage, Gaines said.

In the school exhibit, featuring art work from schools in Burlingame, Hillsborough, Daly City, Pacifica, Menlo Park, Millbrae, East Palo Alto, Redwood City, San Bruno and San Mateo, the theme is 'Tribute to a Beautiful America."

Dale Perkins, art consultant for Burlingame schools, reports that his district retained some 50 display boards used during the earlier exhibit, and these would be available to all schools in the county-wide display.

Gaines said the south concourse would probably be continued to be used by schools "in the foreseeable future," but that its use would not be limited to San Mateo county schools.

The airport has allocated the space on a "trial" basis for a co-ordinated county effort Perkins said, and it is the desire of the San Mateo County School Art Committee to see a continuing exhibit that may well be planned over the period of one year. Future utilization (beyond June), will be determined by the airport.

Council Vetoes Appeal

Pacifica councilmen upheld a planning commission decision to grant a use permit for a Boys' Club of America building in the Park Pacifica area Wednesday, overruling an appeal from several Muir Way and Yosemite Drive residents.

The appeal was entered by Ferdnand G. Simon, 15 Muir Way, and signed by six other residents of the area who contend a garbage dump adjacent to the proposed site renders it "unsuitable for this use."

Councilmen said the garbage dump is a "fill and cover" operation, and will continue in operation "three to five years at the most."

They also said the dump does not represent a particular nuisance ordinarily, but "some problems have been experienced with drainage during recent heavy rains."

In approving the planning commission decision, the council imposed the condition that no use other than the Boys' Club will be allowed under the use permit, as requested by those appealing the decision.

The council upheld another planning commission decision involving a zoning change for a site at Brighton Road and Oceana Boulevard.

The commission voted last month to rezone the site from R-3 (multiple family) to C-1 (commercial). Maurice J. Rosenberg, owner of the property, had requested C-1-A (commercial apartment) zoning.

Two Injured In Accident In Daly City

Two persons were injured, one seriously, in a collision at the corner of Junipero Serra Boulevard and Westlake Avenue Tuesday Daly City police report.

Mary P. Contresa, 46, of 860 Wildwood Avenue, Daly City, was admitted to Mary's Help Hospital with possible concussions and multiple lacerations in the accident which occured shortly before 10 a.m.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Anthony, 49. He was not injured.

Marie Dee Langfoldt, 24, of 1276 Skyline Drive was identified as the driver of the second car.

Hot Fudge Pudding Has Good Nutrients

What happier way of insuring an adequate supply of those good milk nutrients in the daily diet than by serving dessert featuring those elegant and desirable dairy products, whipping cream and-or ice cream?

Softened vanilla ice cream or slightly sweetened whipped cream gives additional flavor, texture and nutrition boost to this superb Hot Fudge Pudding. Buttermilk does its bit to make this recipe one of distinction. Takes 6 to 8 servings.

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup sugar
1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted
½ cup buttermilk
2tablespoons butter, melted
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup brown sugar
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1½ cups boiling water

Sift flour, baking soda, salt and sugar together in mixing bowl. Add the 1 square melted chocolate, the buttermilk, melted butter and walnuts. Stir until well blended. Turn into greased 8-inch pan, 2 inches deep. Sprinkle brown sugar over batter. Turn into greased 8-inch pan, 2 inches deep. Sprinkle brown sugar over batter. Combine melted chocolate and boiling water. Pour over batter. Bake in moderate, 350-degree, oven 40 to 45 minutes. Serve warm topped with softened ice cream or whipped cream.

Chicken Breasts Parmesan

Chicken breasts get interesting treatment.

Chicken Parmesan
Mushroom Sauce
Steamed Rice Green Peas
Strawberry Turnovers
Beverage

Chicken Parmesan

2 chicken breasts, about 1 pound (keel bone removed and split)
1 large egg, well-beaten
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
¼ cup (about) butter

Wash and dry chicken. Dip chicken in the beaten egg, then the Parmesan. Heat butter in a large skillet over moderate heat; add chicken and cook and brown on under side — about 10 minutes; turn and cook another 10 minutes or until cooked through and brown. Makes 2 to 4 servings.

The Ladies Like to Eat With Eyes

Ladies' luncheons are never understood by men because the effect is delicate and pretty. A woman "eats with her eyes" more than a man does. Today's luncheon is as artisitc as springtime.

Fruit Salad with Cream Cheese Lillies:

Arrange assorted fresh or drained canned fruit on lettuce leaves. Trim crusts from slices of bread and spread bread with softened cream cheese. Place strips of carrot diagonally across bread. Bring up opposite corners to shape a lily. Fasten with a toothpick. Serve on salad plate.

Topaz Herb Consomme

Combine 1 can condensed consomme, 1 soup can water and a dash rosemary. Heat thoroughly; add ½ tablespoon lemon juice. Serve in beverage cups. 2 to 3 servings.

Nut-Brown Date Bars A Refresher

These nut-brown date bars are a good afternoon refresher.

Tea, Coffee or Milk
Nut-Brown Date Bars

NUT-BROWN DATE BARS

½ cup (1 stick) butter
¼ cup granulated sugar
1 1-3 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
2-3 cup cut-up pitted dates
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
½ cup medium-fine chopped walnuts

Cream butter and granulated sugar; with a spoon, work in 1 cup of the sifted flour. Pack into buttered square cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Bake this base in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned — about 25 minutes. Meanwhile, sift together the remaining 1-3 cup flour with the baking powder and salt; set aside. Just before base has finished baking, beat eggs until thick and ivory color; gradually beat in brown sugar, then vanilla; fold in the sifted flour mixture, dates, orange rind and walnuts. Spread over hot baked base and return to 350-degree oven until firm and brown — about 30 minutes. Cool on wire rack; cut in bars. Store in tightly covered tin and the base of these bars will stay delightfully crisp for a couple of days.

Mushroom Sauce For An Omelet

MUSHROOM SAUCE FRANCES

4 tablespoons (½ stick) butter or margarine
1 medium onion, cut in thin strips (1 cup)
6 medium mushrooms, sliced (2 cups)
1 tablespoon flour
2-3 cup cold water
1-3 cup commercial sour cream
1 chicken bouillon cube
Pepper to taste

In an eight-inch skillet (with a dome-type cover) melt the butter; add the onion and cook gently, stirring often, until transparent — about 10 minutes; increase heat and stirring constantly cook until deep gold — about five minutes. Add the mushrooms and mix in thoroughly. Cover and stirring several times cook gently about five minutes. Mix flour with one third-cup water, sour cream and bouillon cube; add to skillet. Over moderately low heat cook and stir constantly until thickened, bubbling and bouillon cube is dissolved; add pepper to taste. Makes 4 servings.

Sliced Pickle For Variation In Pot Roast

Rather than throw out the last of the pickle juice, use it as the liquid for pot-roast. If you add some sliced pickles to the meat, its flavor will be even more accented.

With the pickle flavor already in it, think how delicious the left over potroast will be in sandwiches!

There are several possibilties in beef cuts to use for potroast. These include arm or blade from the chuck (shoulder), a thick round steak, rump or sirloin tip when they do not warrant roasting, also boneless cuts from the chuck section.

Pickle Pot Roast

3 to 4 pound beef arm or blade pot roast
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 medium onions, sliced ¼ inch thick teaspoon celery seed
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
¼ cup sweet cucumber pickle juice
¼ cup sliced sweet cucumber pickles
¼ cup flour
Water

Brown meat in lard or drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add onions, celery seed, ginger and pickle juice. Cover tightly and cook slowly 2 hours. Add pickles and continue cooking 30 minutes or until meat is tender. Remove meat. Add enough water to cooking liquid to make 4 cups. Thicken liquid with flour for gravy. Serve with pot roast.

Baked Custard With Flavorful Variation

Baked custards are tremendously popular and certainly easy to do. An ideal way for children to "eat" part of the 3 cups of milk a day that is recommended by nutritionists for optimum health and growth. A quart or more of milk per day is recommended for teen-agers.

3 eggs
1-3 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 cups milk, scalded
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat eggs slightly with rotary beater. Stir in sugar and salt; mixing well. Add hot milk, very slowly at first, stirring constantly and vigorously so that the heat of the milk will be evenly distributed through the egg. Add vanilla and pour into six custard cups. Place custard cups in a pan and pour boiling water around the cups. Bake in moderate, 350 degree oven until firm; 35 to 45 minutes.

Custards are done when knife inserted through center comes out clean. Chill. Loosen around edge with knife. Invert on serving dish.

Large Custard. Add an extra egg to basic recipe. Pour into shallow pan. Bake in hot water 35 to 40 minutes or if a 1½ quart casserole is used, bake 45 to 50 minutes. Serve with dairy-fresh cream or thickened fruit sauce.

Apricot Custard. Place a drained canned apricot half in bottom of each custard cup. Perhaps a bit of brown sugar and butter, too.

Marshmallow Custard. Put one marshmallow in each custard cup before filling with custard mixture. The marshmallow melts during baking and forms an interesting crust which children like.

Coffee Custard. Substitute 1 cup strong coffee for 1 cup of the milk. Add coffee to scalded milk. Omit vanilla. Serve with whipped cream.

Cheesetop Muffins

CHEESETOP MUFFINS

1 envelope active dry yeast
½ cup warm water
1 cup finely grated cheddar cheese, lightly packed
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
2 cups (about) unsifted regular flour (stir before measuring)

In a medium mixing bowl dissolve the yeast in the water. Ad 2-3 cup of the cheese, sugar, salt, egg, butter and 1 cup of dthe flour. Beat until cheese is thoroughly mixed in — about 2 minutes at low speed of electric mixer. Gradually and thoroughly mix in the rest of the flour. Fill 12 muffin cups (½-cup capacity) about half full of dough. Sprinkle remaining 1-3 cup cheese over tops. Cover and let rise in warm draft-free place until doubled — 1 to 1½ hours. Bake in 375-degree oven 12 to 15 minutes. Serve hot.

Fish Cookery Guide Has 30 Recipes

A complete guide to fish cookery has just been published by the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

The 54-page color publication, "Let's Cook Fish," contains 30 recipes, a timetable for cooking fish, a buying guide, garnishing tips, preparation ideas and other suggestions for persons wishing to enjoy the bounty of the sea.

"Since fish products are abundant," says acting director of the bureau, H. E. Crowther, "publication of 'Let's Cook Fish' will help more consumers realize the economy and nutritive value of fish as an everyday food."

The following simple-to-prepare recipe is taken from "Let's Cook Fish":

Charcoal Broiled Fish Portions or Sticks

12 frozen fried fish portions (2½ to 3 ounces each)
24 frozen fried fish sticks (¾ to 1¼ ounces each)
Tartar sauce

Place frozen fish in a single layer in well-greased, hinged, wire grills. Cook about 4 inches from moderately hot coals for 4 to 5 minutes. Turn. Cook for 4 5 minutes longer or until fish are heated through and flake easily when tested with a fork. Serve with a tartar sauce. Makes 6 servings.

The new booklet is available for 60 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20404.

Pacifica Swim Tourney Slated

The third annual Pacifica Swimming Championships have been scheduled June 2 and 3 at the Terra Nova High School poo, with the deadline for entries set Friday, May 26.

This particular event is definitely not limited to members of the swim team, but is open to both boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 17, directors said. Participants must live in the City of Pacifica, or attend a local elementary or high school, or be a member of a local swim team.

The annual event is again being conducted by the Recreation Division with the cooperation of the Pacifica Lions Club, and hosted by the Pacifica Sea Lions' parent organization.

Awards to be presented by the Lions Club include heat ribbons for first, second and third place, finals ribbons for first through sixth place, and high point trophies for each age division.

A total of 7 events are planned to cover the six age groupings for both girls and boys. The strokes being featured are the individual medley, free, back, breast, and fly.

Information sheets and entry blanks may be obtained from playground leaders or from the Park, Beach and Recreation Department office. Entries should be turned in at the same locations by May 26.

Eight-year-old Joe Morgan placed in four events at the Monterey Marlins' Class "B" A.A.U. Swim Meet held at Seaside over the weekend of May 6-7. He placed fourth in the 25-yard Freestyle, fifth in the 25-yard Fly, fifth in the 50-yard Breast and sixth in the 50-yard Back.

Heat Ribbons were won by Steve Morgan in the 100-yard Back and 200-yard Individual Medley, Bob Ramsey in the 50-yard Butterfly and Joe Morgan in the 50-yard Breastroke. Other Sea Lions attending the meet were Lynn Schneider, Kathy Morgan and John Morgan.

The next A.A.U. Meet in which the Sea Lions will be participating will be held at Cupertino High School on May 27-28, hosted by the Tantau Swim Club.

The next dual meet is to be held at Terra Nova pool Thursday, with the Milbrae Otters.

Our Gang Still Leads Volleyball

Our Gang, the Lame Ducks, Guppies and Cripplers took wins last week in the Daly City Recreation Department's Adult Co-ed Volleyball League.

Our Gang defeated the Raiders in two out of three games to register their ninth win against one set-back. Spark plugs for the Our Gang victory were Tom Davis, Ray Letsinger, Dean Prince and Ray Parkin. Larry Sanchez played a strong game for the Raiders.

The Lame Ducks moved into second place when they knocked off the Rascals in two out of three spirited contests.

Leading the Ducks into second place were Joe and Joyce Cortese, Ed Malcarne, Valerie Galdikas, Tony Rogue, Mary Anderson and Hugh Miller.

Final action of the night saw the Guppies upset the Stinkers in two straight games '15-8' and an overtime win '16-14.' Pacing the Guppie win were Ingrid Zimmerman, Jacqueline and Dick Freund, Maxine Gardner, Angela Gardner and Bill Wilson.

Highlight of this week's schedule will be the Our Gang versus Lame Duck contest. The Ducks are one game back of the league leaders.

Giants Lead League

The PAL Giants picked up win number two in the Daly City Recreation Department's fifth-grade South Division baseball league with a 5-2 victory over the OLPH Sparrows last week.

The Giants were led by the combined pitching of Keith Galiano and John Butorac, while the hitting punch came from teammate Brian Dorn. Bob Baptista whacked two hits to lead the OLPH effort.

Tre OLPH Bluejays knocked over the OLM Reds '5-1' behind the 4-hit pitching of Henry Perez. Kevin Hampton led the Bluejays hitters with a pair of safeties.

The OLPH Parakeets split a pair of contests last week as they edged the Calvary Cross Crusader B's '14-13' then lost to the PAL Cubs '15-8' in a later encounter.

Glen Guillory, Rich Perez, Eric Haynes and Hector Vargas each collected three hits for the Parakeets in their win, while Dave Boasso and Jim Elsfelder led the PAL Cub attack with three hits each.

The OLM Reds walloped the Crusaders '11-1' as pitcher Pat McVeigh allowed only one hit while striking out 7 batters. Steve Shubunka tallied two hits to lead the OLM offensive attack.

The OLPH Orioles moved in front last week as they picked up a '15-0' win over the Hunts Donuts Birds in the fifth-grade North Division league. Leading the 18-hit attack for the Orioles were Phil Diaz, 4 for 4, Reggie Griffin, 3 for 3, and Joe Grech, 3 for 3.

The BYA Rams kept pace, however, with a '7-6' win over the Orioles in an earlier contest. Mike Steele led the Rams Attack with three timely hits. Al Michel and Bob Shaughnessy were also impressive at the plate for the winners.

The PAL Bugs scored 14 times on 16 hits to walk over the BYA Rams '14-2' behind the fine pitching of Dan Tomczak and a big run home by Gary Moe. Rich Bodegraven collected a pair of safeties for the losers.

The OLM Blues trimmed the PAL Bugs '5-2 'as OLM pitchers Mark Racette and Tom McLaughlin teamed up to hold the opponents to just 3 hits. Racette and McLaughlin helped their own cause as each hit important 2 run doubles.

Table Tennis Club Formed

The Daly City Recreation Department is seeking members for its newly formed Table Tennis Club, directors announced this week.

The club is open to all adults, and meets each Monday in the Westlake Park Clubhouse 7-10 p.m.

Club activities scheduled include husband and wife tournaments, city-wide tournaments, movies and other special events for table tennis enthusiasts.

Anyone interested in joining the club should contact the department at the War Memorial Building.

New Recreation Leagues

The Daly City Recreation Department is now taking team sign-ups for the 1967 Farm Club League Baseball Program for teams of boys in the third through fifth grades.

A coaches' meeting will be held Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Upstairs Room of the War Memorial Community Center for all coaches entering a team in this year's league.

Further information on this program can be obtained by contacting Mickey Corso, recreation supervisor.

The Daly City Recreation Department is also taking sign-ups for its 1967 Adult Slow Pitch Softball League. Teams composed of men 18 are eligible to play in this league.

An entry fee of $20 per team to cover the cost of awards and forfeit fees will be charged. Team rosters and league fees are due no later than May 24 and must be turned into the Recreation Department at 144 Hillside Boulevard.

The league play is tentatively scheduled to start June 5. For further information contact the recreation supervisor.

Colts Leading 8th Graders

By CRAIG BECKHEYER
Post Sports Writer

The rain that plagued the Bay Area with dogged persistency throughout the month of April has c me back to haunt both South San Francisco and Jefferson in the final weeks of the North Peninsula League baseball chase.

Forced into innumerable early season postponements by the endless precipitation, the Warriors and Indians had no choice but to schedule a makeup game after the end of the regular season, on May 23.

As a result, the two schools must cut one another's throat to the benefit of El Camino, now sole owners of first place in the tight NPL race.

El Camino left little doubt as to who was the team to beat yesterday when they took advantage of four walks, an error and two singles to score three times in the top of the eighth and register a 6-3 victory over Jefferson. The loss knocked Jeff two games off the pace with Terra Nova and South San Francisco left on their schedule.

In the meantime, Westmoor was coming up with a brilliant pitching performance from ace Steve Bach (5-1) to knoc' South San Francisco out of a first place tie with a, 1-0,.nine inning victory in a torrid pitcher's duel against the Warrior's Bob Aurigemma.

In other NPL action Half Moon Bay pulled Oceana down to a last place deadlock by scoring four times in the first inning and then coasting to a 6-1 decision.

Bach and Aurigemma were in complete control of the contest at South San Francisco's Orange Park. After eight innings neither team had been able to score and both pitchers were still going strong. In the top of the ninth, Westmoor's Rex Arnott singled and one out later Joe Weinberg's base hit got through the outfield defense and Arnott scored all the way from first.

Bach struck out eleven in going the nine inning distance and walked only one. Although the Ram ace hit two batsmen he was in trouble only once. Aurigemma fanned nine, gave up one base on balls and deserved a far better fate.

Jefferson jumped to an early lead in their crucial with El Camino when clean up man Lenny Hatton powered a three run homer to left field in the first inning.

El Camino, however, brought in relief hurler Gary Parker who shut out the Tribe from there on out while his mates pecked away at Jeff Hurler Ron Mini and knotted tne count at 3-3 at the end of seven innings.

In the eighth Paul Lee and Craig Galli contributed the base hits that, along with an Indian pitching collapse and an error resulted in three runs and undisputed first place for the Colts.

Half Moon Bay, who could be the real spoilers of the League against El Camino (they beat them in the first round), had little trouble winning their second game of the season.

Coming up with an eight hit attack, three by the Mullins brothers, Jerry and Gene, the Cougars got help from two Oceana errors and were in command from start to finish.

Youth Job Center Is Approved

A summer employment project for teen-agers was approved last week by the County Human Resources Commission.

The commission authorized its executive officer, George T. Riley, to ask the County Board of Supervisors for $2,837 to operate employment centers in Daly City and East Palo Alto. Riley said money for the centers could be transferred from unused Neighborhood Youth Corps funds.

Each of the centers would employ one youth, at $1.40 an hour, as an employment agent to help locate jobs and refer youngsters to them.

"We are hoping," Riley said, "to place youth between the ages of 13 and 15 by polling the community for jobs such as babysitting, gardening, and vacation-sitting, that is, feeding pets, watching homes and watering lawns while families are vacationing."

Older teen-agers will also get some of that type of work, Riley said, as well as other jobs in business, industry and government.

A special effort will be made, Riley told the commission to find jobs for Negro and Mexican-American youths.

"Some of these children have had difficulty in making good social adjustments and are more prone to damaging activity unless efforts are made to gear them into constructive channels."

Million Travel Through Airport

For the second time in history, air passengers through San Francisco International Airport in a single month have topped the million mark.

The March total of 1,018,806 was exceeded only by the figure of 1,061,279 recorded last June, Airport General Manager George F. Hansen today told the city's Public Utilities Commission.

He also reported that shipments of mail by air (17,589,535 pounds) and air express (1,334,973 pounds) continued at a high level. The mail volume was 30.5 per cent more than in March last year, and air express gained by 9.9 per cent. Air freight totaling 38,304,100 pounds was up 13.7 per cent.

"These totals become more impressive," Hansen said, "when consideration is given to the fact that March, tradtionally, has been one of the slower months in air traffic."

March aircraft movements — landings and take-offs — totaled 26,099, divided as follows: 21,885 by scheduled air carrier, up 15.1 per cent form a year ago; 543 military, and 3,671 by non-scheduled air carriers and itinerant or locally based private and-or corporate aircraft.

Highlights of airport activities during April, as reported by Hansen, included:

A review of 1967-68 airport budget requirements with May John F. Shelley and the Finance Committee of the Board of Supervisors.

Dale H. Fearn joined the airport staff as assistant general manager for planning and development.

The airport unit of the USO observed its first anniversary with a luncheon attended by approximately 125 officials and supporters. It was reported that during the first year, more than 165,000 military personel and-or dependents were assisted.

Festival Due On May 31

The Laguna Salada Union School District's annual May Day Festival will be presented May 21 at Oceana High School.

Presented by the district's instrumental band department, the program begins at 2 p.m. and is open to the public.

Groups participating are the district intermediate band, string orchestra and advanced band.

Two Hurt In Home Falls

Two north county residents, a tot and a housewife, were badly injured Monday in falls at home.

Troy Phillips, 15-month-old son of Mrs. Vicki Phillips, 115 Manzanita Avenue, South San Francisco, was admitted to Peninsula hospital just after noon, with a concussion.

His condition today is reported as 'guarded.'

In "fair' condition but also suffering a concussion is Mrs. Betty Doolin, 34, 213 Santa Clara Avenue, Brisbane.

Hospital aides report she also suffered a cervical sprain.

Overpass Okeh'd

The proposed design for the San Bruno Freeway overpass and interchange with Bayshore Freeway and South Airport Boulevard was approved last week by the Board of Supervisors.

A resolution signifying approval of the State Division of Highway's design for the overpass will be forwarded to the Highway's design for the overpass will be forwarded to the Highway Commission, hopefully to speed up allocation of funds for the project.

Situated just north of the present San Bruno Avenue interchange, the new structure will accommodate a great share of the through traffic now using San Bruno interchange from the airport to El Camino Real and Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Supervisor Robert St. Clair expressed some concern that there would be no southbound access to Bayshore Freeway from the westbound lanes of the San Bruno Freeway at the interchange. However, explained Deputy County Engineer S. H. Cantwell, the present San Bruno Avenue interchange will be sufficient to accommodate the Bayshore traffic when the through east-west traffic switches to the new overpass.

National Foot Health Week Proclaimed

Dr. John M. Connolly, Westlake foot specialist, met with Mayor Bernard J. Lycett for the signing and issuing of a proclamation declaring May 15-17, "National Health Week."

Dr. Connolly recommended adoption of chidren's health examinations for the first, seventh, and tenth grades in the San Mateo County School system.

He pointed out that during these phases of growth, the skeletal framework of the foot undergoes many changes and if pathology is present, it will be detected early and can be readily treated.

Dr. Connolly cautioned parents to be especially watchful during the summer months when many young people go without shoes, because the incidence of contracting fungus infections and plantar warts of the feet are most high.

He gave a number of hints that will insure foot comfort as outlined by the American Podiatry Association:

1. KEEP FEET CLEAN. Bathe feet daily, using a mild soap and warm (not hot) water. Dry feet thoroughly, especially between the toes, with a soft towel. Pat dry, do not rub. Use a foot powder for the feet and inside the shoes. Apply a lanolin base cream or lotion to dry skin.

2. EXAMINE FEET. Inspect feet for cuts, cracks, blisters, or "athlete's foot." If any of these conditions are present, do not go barefoot. Avoid using harsh medications for self-treatment.

3. FOOT WEAR. While on vacation, wear the right shoe for the right occasion. Be sure to have correctly fitted shoes and hose, and change these once or twice a day.

4. SEEK PROFESSIONAL CARE. Avoid cutting your own corns, callouses, or ingrown nails. Have periodic foot check-ups.

In his proclamation, Mayor Lycett said:

Whereas, the American Podiatry Association cautions that foot ills are on the increase throughout the United States; and

Whereas, the increase in foot disorders is not confined to any one age group; and

Whereas, it is estimated that over 68 per cent of our population has suffered or are suffering from various afflictions that affect the feet; and

Whereas, the diagnosis and treatment of many of these disorders go undetected before serious damage is caused; and

Whereas, the members of the California Podiatry Association are calling public attention to the need for expanded foot care and foot health education for the men, women and children of this community;

Now, therefore, I, Mayor Bernard J. Lycett, do hereby designate and proclaim the period of May 15 to 22, 1967, inclusive, as NATIONAL FOOT HEALTH WEEK, and urge the observance of this week throughout Daly City by the active participation of all residents in creating a greater awareness of good foot health and the prevention of foot disabilities.

LOBSTER MUSHROOM SOUP
Baked Canned Ham
Pear Halves with Chutney Centers
Canned Vegetable Salad
Date and Nut Bread with Ice Cream
Demitasse Milk

LOBSTER MUSHROOM SOUP

¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 soup can milk
1 soup can water
1 cup flaked cooked lobster (or 6½-ounce can, drained)
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Dash pepper
Dash paprika

Cook onion in butter until tender. Blend in soup and remaining ingredients. Heat; stir often. Garnish each serving with paprika. 6 to 8 servings.

Note: Substitute crab, salmon, shrimp, or tuna for lobster.

Canned Vegetable Salad: Toss drained mixed canned vegetables with canned whole button mushrooms. Chill. Stir chopped pimiento and scallions into oil and vinegar salad dressing; toss with vegetables.

Easy Meat Loaf Recipe Pleases All

Here's a quick, dependable and easy meat loaf idea guaranteed to please everyone. Just prepare meat loaf with a new 4-Minute Meat Loaf Mix according to package directions, spread it in an unbaked pie shell and bake.

You will like the convenience of Meat Loaf Mix. It makes dishes like Saucy Meat Loaf Pie easy to prepare. And, its versatility allows you to be creative with little fuss.

Serve Saucy Meat Loaf Pie topped with mushroom sauce, for that special touch, to family or friends soon.

SAUCY MEAT LOAF PIE
(Makes 6 servings)

1 package meat loaf mix
2 pounds ground chuck
2 eggs
2-3 cup water
9-inch single crust unbaked pie shell

Mix meat loaf mix, chuck, eggs and water lightly but thoroughly. Spread evenly and firmly in unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 50-minutes or until meat is brown and crust golden. Drain off excess fat. Cut meat loaf pie in wedges and serve with mushroom sauce.

MUSHROOM SAUCE

Mix 10½-ounce can cream of mushroom soup, 1-3 cup water, ½-cup (2½-ounce jar) drained, sliced mushrooms and 2 teaspoons dill weed in saucepan until smooth and well-blended. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Serve over hot meat loaf.

Pimiento Garnishes A Pudding

The pimiento comes to the top of this pudding and garnishes it.

Custard Corn Pudding Bacon
Asparagus Rolls
Cookies Beverage

CUSTARD CORN PUDDING

2 eggs
2 cups well-drained canned whole-kernel corn
1 drained canned pimiento, diced
White sauce (see note)

In a medium bowl, beat eggs slightly; stir in corn and pimiento; gradually mix in the hot white sauce. Turn into a buttered oblong heatproof 1½-quart glass baking dish (10 by 6 by 1¾-inches). Place in a small roasting pan (13 by 9 by 2-inches) add enough hot tap water (about 1 quart) to come up even with corn mixture. Bake in a 325-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 40 minutes. Allow to stand 5 minutes before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For the white sauce, use 1 tablespoon each butter and flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon white pepper and 1½-cups milk, cooking until thickened and bubbly.

King Hamburger Reigns

It's summertime . . . and King Hamburger reigns again! There seems to be a million and one ways of grilling ground beef over charcoal. . . and the results are always received eagerly by youngsters and oldsters alike.

Give King Hamburger a royal treatment by sandwiching crisp cucumber and onion slices between two ground beef patties. Then grill the patties to perfection, brushing them often with a spicy, rosy-red barbecue sauce. More of the luscious sauce is served with the patties at the table.

The tantalizing barbecue sauce may be the best you ever made. Just take your year 'round stand-by . . . a can of condensed tomato soup . . . and simmer it with celery, garlic, chow chow, Worcestershire, and "Tabasco" sauce.

You'll probably find condensed tomato soup the most versatile product a barbecue chef could wish for. Its bright tomato-y taste adds sparkle to meat, poultry, and fish dishes alike. Keep lots handy this summer . . . you'll use it often!

Round out your backyard picnic with toasted buns to hold the juicy hamburgers, a fresh vegetable relish tray, potato chips, and root beer floats.

BARBECUED STUFFED HAMBURGERS

2 pounds ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
Generous dash pepper
8 thin slices cucumber
8 thin slices onion
¼ cup chopped celery
1 large clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed tomato soup
¼ cup water
¼ cup chopped chow chow
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire
6 drops "Tabasco" sauce

Combine beef and seasonings. Shape into 16 thin patties. On half of the patties, place a cucumber and onion slice. Top with remaining patties and seal edges. Meanwhile in saucepan, cook celery with garlic in butter until tender. Add remaning ingredients. Cook over low heat 15 minutes; stir now and then. Grill patties over glowing coals, 4 inches from heat, for 15 minutes or until desired doneness, turning and basting with sauce every 5 minutes. Serve with remaining sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Asparagus Is Wrapped In Ham Slices

Pink, green and yellow may sound like the latest fashion note but it's the color of a luncheon main dish if the following recipe is used.

Fresh asparagus spears make easy work of wrapping with "boiled" ham, to be set on stacks of tomatoes and more ham. If these are baked, with cheese soup and milk, there's no watching just before luncheon is served.

Should the luncheon group include ladies from PTA, Women's Guild or Art Circle, they'll enjoy a fruit salad, made of melon balls, halved strawberries and fresh pineapple in a whipped cream dressing. Petit Fours or frosted brownies make an ideal dessert.

Ham and Vegetable Rarebit

18 slices "boiled" ham
2 medium tomatoes
12 to 18 asparagus spears, cooked and drained.
1 can (11 ounces) cheese soup
¼ cup milk
6 slices toasted bread, if desired

Peel tomatoes and cut each into 3 slices. Take 12 slices of "boiled" ham, using two slices of ham for each serving, and fold in half for each serving. Place in a broiling pan or a rectangular baking pan. Place a slice of tomato on top of each serving of ham. Wrap each remaining slice of ham around 2 to 3 asparagus spears, making a total of 6 rolls. Place the rolls in the pan around the servings of ham and tomatoes. Combine the cheese soup and milk. Mix well. Pour the soup mixture over the ham rolls and tomatoes. Broil 6 to 7 inches from the heat for 8 to 10 minutes or bake in a hot overn (400 degrees F.) for 15 to 20 minutes or until heated through. Serve on toasted bread. 6 servings.

Party Cheese Roll Recipe

This is an old and delectable party-ready cheese roll recipe that bears repeating. Mash ½-pound processed sharp Cheddar cheese with a 3-ounce package of cream cheese. Add 1-clove crushed garlic and a dash of Worcestershie sauce; mix well. Roll into 2-slender (1-inch) cylinders. For flavor and color variety, roll cylinders in chopped parsley, chives, paprika or nuts. Wrap in waxed paper, chill overnight or longer. Slice and serve on crisp butter crackers.

Peach Ice Cream A Seasonal Treat

Fresh Peach Ice Cream with its high milk nutrition and glorious flavor is a summer snack or dessert treat beyond compare. Make it with milk (instead of the usual cream) or with daily fresh, dairy sour cream for a more piquant flavor. In any case, make up a batch in a hand-crank type freezer, following manufacturer's instructions for freezing, or in the freezer compartment of the refrigerator as per these instructions. Here are two recipes for Fresh Peach Ice Cream: one with milk and one with dairy sour cream.

Milk-Made Peach Ice Cream

For peach ice cream the peaches should be soft-ripe but not mushy. Recipe makes approximately 1½ quarts or 12 servings.

- 1 rennet (junket) tablet
- 1 tablespoon cold water
- 2 cups milk
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons light corn syrup
- 1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
- 1-16 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- 2 cups crushed ripe fresh peaches

Crush rennet tablet and dissolve in cold water. Combine milk, sugar, corn syrup, salt and pure vanilla extract. Mix well. Heat to lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of the wrist frequently. When it is comfortably warm (110 degrees F.), not hot, remove from heat at once.

Add dissolved rennet tablet. Stir a dew seconds only. Pour, at once, while still liquid, into an ice cube tray. Do not disturb for 10 minutes while milk sets. Place in the freezing compartment of refrigerator and freeze until almost firm. Remove from freezer, break up with a fork and beat with an electirc or rotary beater until free from lumps, but still thick and mushy. Beat at hish speed 2 minutes. Fold in fresh lemon jiice until firmand ready to erve.

Sour Cream Peach Ice Cream

The flavor of this Sour Cream Peach Ice Cream is delightfully different. There is just a bit of the tang of sour cream perceptible, creating a delicate almost undefinable flavor-mystery or mastery, if you prefer. Recipe makes 1½ to 2 quarts. It depends on the beating.

- 2 cups crushed fresh paeches
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- 1 cup (½ pint) dairy sour cream
- 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
- ¼ teaspoon pure almond extract
- 1 unbeaten egg white
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine peaches, sugar and lemon juice. Fold into sour cream along with pure vanilla and almond extracts. Turn into ice cube tray. Freeze until mixture is a firm mush. Remove from freezer and turn into a mixing bowl. Add egg white and salt and beat until fluffy and increased iin volume. Fold in whipped cream. Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm. If ice cream is too hard to spoon out of the trays, let stand at room temperature 15 to 20 minutes to soften slightly.

Make Creamy Pudding Of Fresh Peach

Here's a simple recipe for an inexpensive refreshing peach pudding that you'll never find in a packaged mix. Now that the peach season is beginning, select fresh peaches for the pudding. At other times of the year, frozen peaches will do very nicely.

Peach Pudding

- 1-3 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons corn starch
- 2 cups chopped, peeled fresh peaches
- Water

Combine sugar and corn starch in double boiler top. Drain any liquid from peaches and add water to make ¾ cup. Blend into corn starch mixture, then add peaches. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Cover and cook 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Chill. Serve with favorite custard sauce. Makes 4 servings.

If softer pudding is desired: Add about 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

To prepare with frozen peaches: Mash 1 (10-ounce) package thawed, frozen peaches and syrup. Add water to make 1½ cups. Gradually add peach mixture to sugar and corn starch. Cook as directed above.

Sweetbreads Breaded And Fried

Those who have tasted both sweetbreads and brains say there is very little difference in either flavor or texture. Fragile, they both need precooking in water to which lemon juice or vinegar has been added.

After a 20-minute cooking period, the thin membrane is removed and the variety meat is separated into pieces about the size of an oyster. They're breaded and pa-nfried until golden brown.

For a delightful menu serve with shoestring potatoes, green beans, pineapple-cream cheese-nut salad, bacon muffins and strawberry-rhubarb pie.

BRAIN OYSTERS

- 1 pound brains
- 1 quart water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice
- 1 egg, beaten
- Cracker crumbs

Wash brains. Add water, salt and vinegar or lemon juice. Simmer 20 minutes. Drain and remove outer membrane. Separate brains into pieces about the size of an oyster. Dip in egg, then in cracker crumbs. Fry in lard or droppings until browned on both sides. 4 servings.

Add Touches Of Sparkle

When supper or dinner borders on the ordinary, add little touches of sparkle with convenient canned meats. For example, serve baked potato with cheese sauce into which has been mixed one can of deviled ham.

Baked beans from a can are interesting when topped with Vienna sausages from one or two cans. Arrange them like spokes in a wheel, then place fried onion slices around the outer edge.

Make your favorite rice salad, then add to it canned luncheon meat, American or Swiss cheese, cut julienne-style.

With a soup or salad, serve Frankfurter Rolls: using prepared baking powder biscuits, flatten out with a rolling pin then roll a frankfurter in each biscuit. Bake according to package directions. Serve with mustard, chili or cheese sauce.

Clusters Of Sausage For Sunday Night

Pork sausage links cut and baked in toasted bread cups with a cheese custard mixture give the impression of a large flower. Wouldn't they be a perfect choice for a spring Sunday evening supper?

They're as tasty as they're simple, says a meat authority, for the flavor of the sausage is compatible with a cheese custard mixture. To assure proper cooking of the sausage links, place them in a frying pan with water, as directed, to cook covered for five minutes.

SAUSAGE CLUSTERS

- 1½ pounds pork sausage links
- 6 slices bread
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 cup grated Swiss cheese
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1¼ cups milk
- ¾ cup light cream

Trim crust from bread and fit a bread slice in bottom of each of 6 greased 10-ounce individual casseroles or baking dishes. Place sausage and water in cold frying pan. Cove rtightly and cook slowly 5 minutes. Remove cover and brown sausage on all sides. Cut sausage links into 3 pieces and place on bread. Sprinkle cheese over the links. Combine the mustard, salt, nutmeg and Worcestershire sauce. Mix until smooth. Add eggs, milk and cream. Pour over cheese. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes or until done. 6 servings.

A Marble Cheesecake For Sunday

Manhattan Clam Cowder
Rolls
Marble Cheesecake Beverage

MARBLE CHEESECAKE

- ½ pound creamstyle small or large-curd cottage cheese (not tangy)
- 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- ¾ cup sugar
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
- ½ pint commercial sour cream
- 1 ounce semi-sweet chocolate, melted

Spread a 9-inch springform pan with graham cracker crumbs. Into large mixing bowl sieve the cottage cheese; add cream cheese; with high speed of electric mixer beat until thoroughly blended and creamy. Beating at high speed, blend in sugar, then eggs. Reduce speed to low. Add cornstarch, lemon juice and vanilla; beat until blended. Add melted butter and sour cream; blend with low speed. Put about one third of batter into another bowl; blend in melted chocolate. Pour plain and chocolate batters alternately into prepared pan. Swirl with spatula. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until firm around edges — about one hour. Turn off oven. Let cake stand in oven one hour. Remove and cool completely on wire rack. Chill. Remove sides of pan. Makes six servings. May be frozen.

Ham Salad Dressing Tip

A snappy dressing with ham salad gives the meat a new lease on life. Use two tablespoons of whole cranberry sauce with one-half cup of French dressing.

Using packaged corn bread mix, follow directions for preparation. Add one-half teaspoon of sage and one-fourth cup of fried, chopped onion. When it's baked, split the cornbread square and top with creamed ham and mushrooms. Replace top and cover with remaining creamed ham.

Fresh Pineapple With Ginger Cream

Chill 3 cups diced fresh pineapple. Combine 1-cup sour cream with 2 tablespoons each brown sugar and chopped candied ginger. Spoon pineapple into sherbet dishes; top each with a generous dollop sour cream mixture. 6 servings.

Snow-Capped Blueberry Hill Dessert Will Play It Cool

As the weather warms up, it's time to cool down the foods that you serve. Crisp, colorful main dish salads instead of filling meat-and-potato type entrees are the order of the season; and so are pretty refreshing desserts like this blueberry specialty created to serve in place of a towering cake or a cream pie. There's really no nicer way to end a meal during the hot months ahead than with a dessert like this, for it is cool-looking to the eye, cool-tasting to the palate. Just ask our little tassel-caped friend if you doubt us!

The snow cap of this dessert is made with a fluff of dairy sour cream flavored with a hint of cinnamon and vanilla and set with unflavored gelatine. While this layer gels after being spooned into individual molds, mix together canned blueberry pie filling and crushed pineapple with more of the gelatine for the base of this delicate sweet.

The plump berries of the canned filling are delicious and so easy to use in this dessert that is a simple do-ahead dish. Prepare the blueberry treat while you clean up after breakfast, or else after supper, for service later; either way, you'll be working in the cool of the day.

Snow-Capped Blueberry Hill Dessert

- 2 envelopes (2 tablespoons) unflavored gelatine
- 1 cup water
- 1 pint diary sour cream
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 1 No. 2 can (2 cups) blueberry pie filling
- 1 can (8-ounce) crushed pineapple

Soften gelatine, in the water; dissolve over hot water. Blend ¼ cup of the softened gelatine into the sour cream; add sugar, cinnamon and vanilla. Spoon mixture in to eight ¾-cup molds that have been rinsed in cold water; cool until set. Mix blueberry pie filling, pineapple and remaining dissolved gelatine. Spoon over sour cream mixture in molds. Chill until firm. Makes 8 servings.

THE SNOW-CAPPED DESSERT is so delightfully refreshing that you might use it to end a porch supper or as the sweet accompaniment to an afternoon iced tea session. In fact, served at any time, this is a desert no one will want to pass by.

Try Avocado Half Stuffed With Chicken

For delightful luncheon fare, fill velvet-textured avocados with a savory salad mixture made crisp and refreshing with chopped western iceberg lettuce and satisfying with chopped chicken, onion and fresh mushrooms.

Your guests will enjoy these elegant "Chicken Stuffed Avocado Halves" with their smooth, rich dressing of evaporated milk, corn oil, egg yolk, herbs and seasonings. To accompany them you might serve warm croissants and a plate of assorted cheeses, then follow with an elegant dessert such as strawberries drizzled with Kirsch, and almond wafers.

Another time, try the salad mixture on tomato slices with chilled cooked fresh asparagus spears, and complete the menu with sliced almond-sprinkled consomme madrilene, buttered bread sticks sprinkled with Parmesan cheese and strawberry shortcake.

CHICKEN STUFFED AVOCADO HALVES

- 1 head western iceberg lettuce
- 1 cup (4 oz.) finely chopped cooked chicken
- 1 cup chopped fresh mushrooms
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- Deluxe dressing
- 3 California avocados

DELUXE DRESSING

- 1-3 cup evaporated milk
- ¼ cup corn oil
- ¼ cup tarragon vinegar
- 1 egg yolk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon prepared mustard
- ¼ teaspoon tarragon, crumbled
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- Dash cayenne (optional)

Core, rinse and drain lettuce; chill in disposable plastic bag. Saving some large outer leaves, finely chop enough to yield 1 cup. Combine chopped lettuce with chicken, mushrooms, onion and ¼ cup Deluxe Dressing. Halve avocados, discarding seeds and skin; arrange on reserved lettuce leaves on plates. Mound chicken misture onto avocados. Pass remaining dressing.

Deluxe Dressing: Combine all ingredients in jar, cover and shake well to blend. Chill. Makes 6 servings.

Dublin Dinner Featuring A Lamb Stew

Dublin Dinner — Sure, and it's stew for supper, everything in one pot and plenty of meat and potatoes for everyone. Start the stew early in the day and finish cooking just before serving time.

Mrs. McGillicuddy's Lamb Stew
Country Salad Bowl
Sesame Seed Rolls
Farmhouse Apple Pie
Coffee Milk

Mrs. McGillicuddy's Lamb Stew

- 1 pound lamb cubes
- 1 large clove garlic, minced
- ¼ teaspoon leaf thyme, crushed
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 can (10½-ounces) condensed onion soup
- ½ soup can water
- 1 cup diced celery
- ½ cup cooked tomatoes
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 4 medium potatoes (about 1 pound), quartered
- 1 package (9-ounces) frozen cut green beans

Try a Curry, Different, But Tasty

Curry is a popular condiment made of a combination of spices such as black and cayenne peppers, ginger, cumin and coriander ground into a owder. Here curry is used for an easy Curried Shrimp made creamy smooth with real mayonnaise.

CURRIED SHRIMP

- ¼ cup real mayonnaise
- ½ teaspoon grated onion
- ¼ teaspoon curry powder
- 2 pounds shrimp, cooked, shelled and deveined
- ½ cup chopped parsley
- ½ teasoon salt
- Dash pepper

Combine mayonnaise, grated onion and curry powder in skillet. Place over medium heat 2 to 3 minutes. Add shrimp; heat. Remove from heat. Toss shrimp with parsley, salt and pepper. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

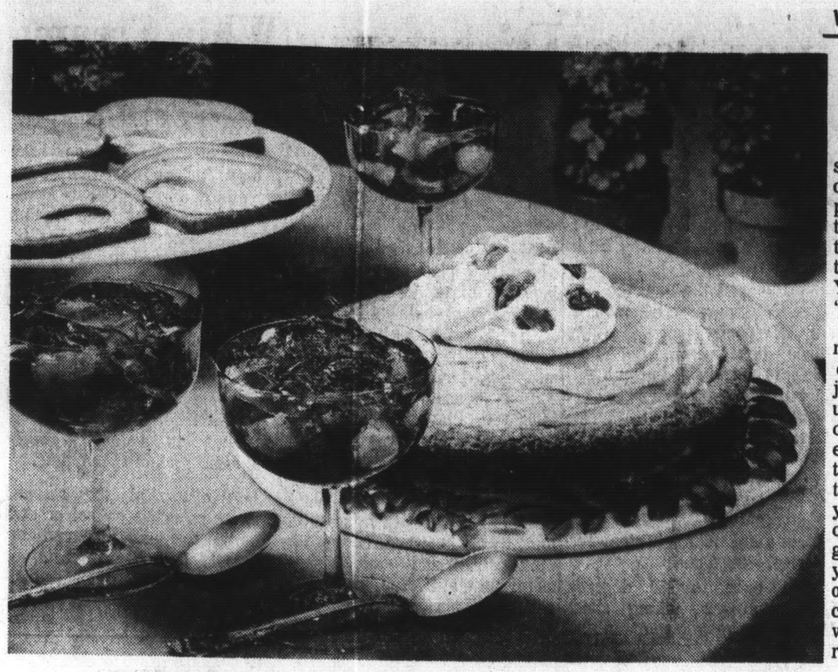
Cool and Colorful Supper on a Simmering Night



COOL AND COLORFUL is this combination for a warm evening — they'll be coming occasionally from here on. Shrimp consomme, avocado-cream cheese sandwich, frosty Louisiana yam pie, and broccoli refresher make the menu.

Cool, refreshing news for a simmering summer night! Plan on this ever-so-elegant supper to perk up wilted appetites — to tempt the eye and richly reward the palate. And, the best part is that it's so effortless to create. Your refrigerator does the "cooking."

The main course is a shimmering topaz delight! Canned condensed consomme in cool jellied summer form, is dressed up with luscious shrimp and crisp watercress. It couldn't be easier to make — just combine the ingredients and put them in the refrigerator. In a few hours, your elegant entrée is ready. It can be served in stemmed glasses with a twist of lemon, if you like. Accompany it with an open face avocado-cream cheese sandwich, garnished with just a sprinkling of orange rind.

Almost as golden as the setting summer sun, but having a cooling effect, is the dessert . . . a fabulous pie made from ice cream and Louisiana yam flakes. These flakes are descendants of those favorite sweet potatoes from the South . . . Louisiana yams. Consequently, when they are reconstituted, they have the same fine qualities of sweetness, moistness, and stringlessness. And they are instant, a fact that makes them very popular in summer.

The topping for this pie is a snowy mound of whipped cream sprinkled with caramelized almonds that glitter like gold and add crunch to the smooth mellow filling.

An alternate main course is a cool broccoli refresher with a cool-as-a-cucumber sandwich.

SHRIMP CONSOMME

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed consomme
½ cup diced cooked shrimp
¼ cup thinly sliced celery
2 tablespoons snipped watercress
Dash pepper
Lemon wedges

Combine consomme, shrimp, celery, watercress, and pepper. Chill until jellied — about four hours. Stir when partially jellied to distribute shrimp and vegetables. Serve in chilled bowls. Garnish with lemon wedges and additional watercress, if desired. Makes two to three servings.

AVOCADO-CREAM CHEESE SANDWICH

1 package (6 ounces) softened cream cheese.
1 tablespoon light cream
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Avocado slices, brushed lightly with lemon juice
4 slices whole wheat bread

Blend cream cheese and cream; add orange rind. Spread mixture on bread; top with avocado slices. Cut each in four triangles, if desired. Makes 16 tea or 4 large sandwiches.

FROSTY LOUISIANA YAM PIE

1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
1 9-inch baked graham cracker crust, frozen
1 package (5 ounces) instant mashed Louisiana yams
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon mace
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups heavy cream
1 cup sliced blanched almonds
¼ cup granulated sugar

Spread softened ice cream in graham cracker crust; freeze. Prepare instant Louisiana yam flakes according to package directions; stir in brown sugar, vanilla, spices and salt; chill. Whip 1 cup cream until stiff; fold into chilled yam mixture; spoon over ice cream in pie crust. Freeze 3 to 4 hours. Meanwhile, combine almonds and granulated sugar in small heavy skillet; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is the color of dark molasses; do not burn. Pour almonds onto lightly greased baking sheet; break into pieces when cooled. Just before serving, whip remaining ½ cup cream until stiff; mound on pie. Garnish with caramelized almonds.

COOL BROCCOLI REFRESHER

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
1 soup can milk
1-3 cup cooked chopped broccoli
½ teaspoon curry powder
Sour cream

In blender, combine all ingredients, except sour cream. Blend at high speed just until smooth, about ½ minute. In saucepan, heat mixture. Stir now and them. Chill for at least four hours. Stir before serving. Garnish with sour cream. Makes two to three servings.

COOL AS A CUCUMBER SANDWICH

2 tablespoons mayonnaise
⅛ teaspoon dried dill weed
8 slices white bread
Thinly sliced cucumber
Sliced tomato
Lettuce

Combine mayonnaise and dill weed. Spread on four slices bread; top with cucumber, tomato, and lettuce. Spread remaining bread with additional mayonnaise, if desired. Cover sandwiches. Makes four sandwiches.

It's the Sauce That Makes a Barbecue

Barbecues, according to some traditionalists, mean a piece of meat of not less than 25 pounds, cooked in a pit over heated rocks or coals. At the LBJ ranch, slabs of meat of 10 to 12 pounds are used over wood-filled pits. Barbecues to many others, however, mean just plain good food with a special flavor. And that tantalizing taste comes not so much from the type of heat or size of portion as it does from the suace used to baste the meat.

There's a superabundancy of barbecue sauce recipes around; most of them call for heaps of ingredients, careful measuring, long cooking. But there's an easy way to get a perfect old-style barbecue sauce. Use the bottled kind — it's already blended in the proper proportions for you and does away with all that long, old-fashioned process. Moreover, you can buy a barbecue sauce to suit your personal taste preferences for one of the newer barbecue sauces comes in three varieties—mild, smoky hot, and hot. You'll find the flavor authentic because it's been adapted from an old-style cattlemen's barbecue sauce recipe.

With any of these "personalized" sauces at hand, the home economists tell us, you can give a great barbecue on the back porch without worrying about sizzling pits or dying embers. Try Barbecue Ham Special, a real quick-to-make dish, with a irresistible flavor of old-style barbecue sauce combined with marmalade and lemon juice. With it, serve a green salad tossed with Rosy Red Salad Dressing, attractive and aive with the sparkling tang of prepared yellow mustard. With this sort of tasty food, whatever traditions of barbecue you follow, you'll find it means one thing: fun.

Barbecue Ham Special

1 center cut slice (1-inch thick) ready-to-eat ham
6 tablespoons Cattlemen's Barbecue Sauce
¼ cup orange marmalade
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Score fatty edges of ham; place in a skillet over moderate heat. Brown lightly 3 to 4 minutes on each side. Spoon barbecue sauce over ham; turn. Continue to cook uncovered 10 minutes, turning slice once during this time; transfer to hot platter. Add marmalade and lemon juice to sauce left in pan. Cook 2 to 3 minutes to reduce to a glaze; spoon over ham. 4 to 6 servings.

Rosy Red Salad Dressing

1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon onion salt
1 tablespoon Prepared Yellow Mustard
1 can (4¾ oz.) strained beets
½ cup salad oil
¼ cup cider vinegar

Combine all ingredients in a pint jar with a tight-fitting lid; shake vigorously. Chill. Good with a tossed green or mixed vegetable salad. 1¼ cups.

Sundae Can Convert To Pretty Pie

Chocolate Sundaes have always been among the most popular of the ice cream desserts. Have you ever wondered just how this would convert into another type of dessert, like pie?

With test kitchen magic, the ice cream of the sundae becomes a smooth, velvety custard that goes into a pastry shell. The topping is still whipped cream and grated chocolate takes over for chocolate sauce.

To assure both tenderness and flakiness in the pie crust use lard, advises one home economist. Measure ice water carefully with a tablespoon and do not add more than the maximum amount (four tablespoons) for this recipe.

Chocolate Sundae Pie
Pastry

1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 to 6 tabelspoons lard
2 to 4 tablespoons cold water

Mix flour and salt. Cut lard into flour until crumbs are about the size of small peas. Add cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly through flour with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Use as little water as possible. Roll to about ⅛ inch thickness and line a 9-inch pie pan, allowing ½ inch pie crust to extend over edge. Crimp edges.

Prick pastry with a fork. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool.

Filling

1 cup top milk or milk and cream
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1-3 cup sugar
2 teaspoons gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ pint whipping cream
1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
½ square semi-sweet chocolate, coarsely grated

Heat milk, nutmeg and salt in top of double boiler over hot, not boiling water. Beat egg yolks and half the sugar until light and lemon colored. Pour some of the hot milk into the egg yolk mixture and return to remaining milk in double boiler. Cook until mixture coats spoon. Remove from heat. Soften gelatin in cold water and add to hot milk mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold in remaining sugar. Fold into cooled custard. Add vanilla. Pour into crust and chill until set. Fold confectioners' sugar into whipped cream. Top pie with sweetened whipped cream. Sprinkle with grated chocolate.

PEANUT WAFERS

1-3 cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
¼ Teaspoon vanilla
1 egg, separated
½ cup unsifted regular flour, stir before measuring
¼ cup finely chopped cocktail peanuts
2 Tablespoons cornstarch

Cream butter, sugar and vanilla; thoroughly beat in egg yolk. Gradually beat in flour; mix in peanuts and cornstarch. Beat egg white until it holds soft peaks; fold in. Drop by 2 teaspoonfuls about 3 inches apart on greased cookie sheet; spread into 2½-inch rounds with back of spoon. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven about 5 minutes or until browned around edges. Remove at once with wide spatula to wire rack to cool. Makes about 2 dozen.

GREEN CABBAGE PLUS

1 quart tightly packed knife-shredded green cabbage
2-3 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup sliced pitted ripe olives

Into a deep 10-inch skillet, turn the cabbage, water and butter. Cover and boil gently, stirring a few times, until cabbage is tender-crisp — 5 to 7 minutes. Uncover and continue boiling to evaporate liquid. Stir in salt, pepper and olives. Makes 4 servings.

DESSERT EPILOGUE — Like the poetic finale to a good play, this strawberry shortcake will leave a pleasant taste to carry on with as a meal slips into a memory.

Dessert Gives to a Dinner As an Epilogue to a Play

Dessert is to dinner what the epilogue is to a play, and it is a wise hostess who plans the perfect dessert to end a meal.

What better epilogue than Strawberry Shortcake? A tender, flaky shortcake topped with juicy, jewel-toned strawberries and whipped cream is definitely hard to beat — unless it's a better shortcake! Sugar Roll Shortcake is just that. Of course, it's made with all-purpose Bisquick! The addition of cream, cinnamon, nutmeg and nuts makes for the most tender, flavorful shortcake you can imagine, and it's a delightful combination with the strawberries and whipped cream.

Sugar Roll Shortcake is an epilogue you will want to repeat again and again. Here is the recipe as developed in the Betty Crocker Kitchens.

Sugar Roll Shortcake

2 cups all-purpose biscuit mix
2 tablespoons sugar
¾ cup light cream
2 tablespoons soft butter
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons chopped nuts
½ cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
2 cups halved fresh strawberries, sweetened

Heat oven to 450 degrees. Lightly grease baking sheet. Mix all-purpose biscuit mix, 2 tablespoons sugar and the light cream with fork to soft dough. Beat 20 strokes. On lightly floured cloth-covered board knead 8 to 10 times. Roll into 12x6-inch rectangle. Spread with butter. Mix 2 tablespoons sugar, the cinnamon, nutmeg and nuts; sprinkle over butter. Beginning at narrow side, roll up as for jelly roll. Pinch edges to seal. Cut roll into 6 slices. Place slices cut side down on prepared baking sheet; with sugared fingers flatten each to 1-inch thick. Bake 10 to 12 minutes or until nicely browned. Beat whipping cream and confectioners' sugar until stiff. Top warm rolls with strawberries and whipped cream. Six servings.

Whip Cream: Dress-up Food

Whipped cream has long been popular for dressing up desserts of many kinds. Often sweet cream and dairy sour cream can be used interchangeably. Both are whipped to best consistancy when the cream, the bowl and whipping equipment are chilled.

There's a difference in the finished product in that dairy sour cream does not become as stiff as sweet cream nor quite as voluminous but instead is fluffy and almost double in volume.

Use either of the shipped creams in swirls on hot or cold cream soups, salads, beverages, desserts, ice cream treats, or with fruit compotes for use either as first course or as dessert course.

Endless Possibilities

There seems to be an endless list of possibilities with eggs — attractive pricewise as well as from a nutrition viewpoint. Here's one of them.

Golden Eggs Bacon
Hasn Fried Potatoes Salad
Fruit Beverage

GOLDEN EGGS

6 large eggs
¾ cup drained canned whole-kernel corn
¼ teaspoon salt and 1-16 teaspoon white pepper
2 tablespoons butter

Beat eggs slightly. Add corn, salt and pepper. Heat butter in a 10-inch skillet; pour in egg mixture. Cook gently, lifting from bottom of skillet as egg sets. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

BUFET CHICKEN ELEGANTE is just what its name implies. Sauteed-in-butter fresh mushrooms, sliced almonds and dairy sour cream are the main ingredients in the indescribably good sauce. "Worth every bit of effort involved and then some," was the consensus of homemakers who neighborhood tested it for the Dairy Council of California. Recipe today.

This Buffet Chicken Lives Up to Name

Buffet Chicken Elegante is just as its name implies . . . something truly elegant. It was originated with the idea of feting June Dairy Month in a most delectable way by home economists for the Dairy Council of California who then had it neighborhood tested to assure its success. "Worth every bit of effort and then some," was the consensus of the neighborhood testers. Dairy sour cream or all-purpose cream can be used interchangeably, though the piquant flavor added by the sour cream was considered most favorably.

This choice party dish can be prepared ahead of time and refrigerated until time to pop into the oven for a thorough heating. Merely increase baking time to 50 to 60 minutes. The chicken broth is perfect for cooking rice to serve topped with the delicious sauce. Recipe makes 8 to 10 servings for celebrating any occasion.

1½ teaspoons salt
1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
2 cloves garlic, crushed
¼ cup (½-stick) butter
2 cups (1-pint) dairy sour cream OR all-purpose cream
2 cans (10½ ounces) undiluted cream of mushroom soup
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sliced almonds (toasted, if desired)
Paprika

Place chicken pieces in large skillet or soup kettle; add water to barely cover and the 1½ teaspoons salt. Cover and simmer 45 minutes or until chicken is tender. Remove chicken from broth; remove skin and bone chicken breasts or all the chicken, if desired. Place chicken in buttered 3-quart shallow baking dish, arranging breasts, legs and thighs together (this makes for quicker service). Saute mushrooms and garlic in butter. Combine cream and soup with salt and almonds, stir in mushrooms including liquid; pour over chicken; dust with paprika. Bake in moderate 325 degree oven 35 to 40 minutes; 50 to 60 minutes if completed dish has been refrigerated.

Lunchtime Specialty

Here is an onion-cheese-bacon sandwich spread that will spread good eating cheer among the lunchbox-carrying set, agreed neighborhood testers for the Dairy Council of California. Soften one 8-ounce package cream cheese. Add 1-tablespoon instant minced onion to 2 tablespoons mayonnaise; combine with cream cheese. Stir in ¼-teaspoon lemon juice, 2 strips crisply fried and crumbled bacon, salt and pepper to taste. Makes 1-cup spread.

Milk Drinks To Top Cereal

Newest notion we've noticed is that some members of the youngest generation are putting flavored milk drink on ready-to-eat cereals. Off hand, we can think of no reason why it can't also be just as good on cooked cereal.

Chocolate flavored milk drink is a favorite as it comes from the carton or bottle when diluted with equal amount of milk. Some youngsters think it simply super to make a banana or other fruit drink shake or eggnog and pour it over cereal. The egg in the eggnog gives it even greater protein-plus.

Drive-Up Window Service at Roabees

DYNAMIC JOE ACOSTA is the man behind the Roabee "empire," located on El Camino across from the Hillsdale Shopping Center, where a four-inch thick Roast Beef Sandwich, Cold Slaw, Hot Apple Pie and Coffee are "crowned" at $1.29. The dinner area, seating 48 persons, is almost certain to win an award for design. Add to this a Drive-up Window, which enables patrons to buy and take home, or enjoy Roabees in the privacy of their car (plenty of parking space), and you have countless pleased Roabee customers . . . The South San Francisco International Inn Restaurant general manager, Phil Rauscher, is preparing for another overflow crowd for the weekend . . . Maria, the Topless queen from Sweden, and her beautiful court, dancers Billie, Saint, Linda, Sandy and Mary, are stirring things up at Jack McRae and Phil Maite's Fireside in San Mateo . . . An extensive wine list is provided at Frank's New York-Italian Restaurant, Millbrae, to add to your dining pleasure. Frank Accardo suggests reservations on weekends. . . .

TONY BUTALA, Bob Engemann and Jim Pike make up the singing trio of The Lettermen, who return to the Fairmont's Venetian Room on Thursday, May 18, for three weeks. To date, The Lettermen have given more than 1,000 college concerts and now they are on return invitations. When there's time, they play nightclubs too. Not only do they have a wholesome and totally unique sound, they are versatile in their presentation. They sing folk, pop, rock, blues, old standards and new creations. Lovely Brenda Lee is the current Venetian Room hit. . . . One of show business' fastest-rising singing talents and one of today's brightest comedy teams assumed the spotlight at the Sahara Tahoe Hotel May 16 with the debut of Dan Rowan and Dick Martin, along with Special Guest Star, Liza Mannelli.

LUISA "LA NORTENITA" is one of the perennial darlings of the all-Mexican supperclub revue at Luz Garcia's Sinaloa cantina in San Francisco. She delivers her Mexican ballads and novelty tunes with appealing warmth and sincerity . . . Don Zirillis Embers, Redwood City, has been SRO since The Younger Brothers opened here last Tuesday night. Don't forget the Tuesday night dance contests . . . At L'Auberge, Atherton, Tournedo Rossini with imported foie gras, is the most expensive item on the menu, but it's worth it. Topped off with the Strawberry Flambee, you'll agree that the extra cost is small compared to the lavish pleasure received . . . Patrons are flying high at Wayne Manor, the Sunnyvale nightclub. An entirely new "Outer Space Station" interior makes you feel as if you're soaring through space. Entertainment features Sam the Soul, Bonnie Lynn and Sly and the Family Stones.

600 Pounds Of Butter Stolen

More than 600 pounds of butter was stolen from a refrigerated truck at the A and A Food Products Co. plant in San Bruno sometime Wednesday night, police reported. It was one of several thefts reported.

Officers said the truck, Avenue, was broken into between 4:40 p.m. Wednesday and 7:10 a.m. Thursday and eight 30-pound boxes and 20 20-pound boxes of butter were removed.

A look on the door of the refrigerated truck was broken, police said.

A set of golf clubs and a bag with a total value of $438 were taken from a parked automobile Thursday in another San Bruno burglary, police said.

The equipment was removed from a car belonging to William L. Kneeland, 351 Third Avenue, in the parking lot behind Artichoke Joe's Club on Huntington avenue between 3 and 6 p.m.

Entrance to the car was gained through forcing a wing window.

Tools valued at more than $200 were taken in another automobile burglary Thursday. Police said a car belonging to Raymond S. Downs, 325 Chapman Avenue, San Bruno, was broken into sometime Thursday morning.

The car was parked in front of Downs' residence when the burglary occurred. Entrance was gained through forcing a lock on the car door.

Stereo Is Stolen

The Dorothy Catalino home at 252 Rio Verde Street, Daly City, was burglarized Monday and a stereo set valued at some $135 was stolen.

Entry was made through an unlocked rear bedroom window, police said.

REGULAR DENTAL CARE

Reduction of the consumption of sugar, proper toothbrushing can do much to reduce the pervalence of dental decay in children. All dental decay, however, cannot be prevented. There is no substitute for regular visits to the dentist.

Your children should pay their first visit to the dentist between two and one-half and three-years of age, shortly after all their primary teeth have erupted.

There are a number of advantages in early and frequent visits to the dentist:

1 tooth defects and dental disease can be detected and corrected in their early stages
2 the dentist can observe and correct irregularities in the growth of the teeth
3 pain can be prevented
4 the cost of care can be reduced

OFFICES IN OTHER PACIFIC COAST CITIES

Palmetto District Is Approved

The $750,000 Palmetto Avenue improvement district in Pacifica moved closer to realization Wednesday night when councilmen voted preliminary approval of City Engr. Kenneth Thompson's report on the project.

A public hearing on the proposed assessment district was scheduled June 14.

Three resolutions furthering proceedings on the improvement district were adopted Wednesday, including a resolution authorizing the calling of bids on the project.

The bids will be opened June 1.

Thompson presented his report on the project orally Wednesday, and Councilman Rick Wallis suggested action on the district should be delayed until the engineer's report could be submitted in written form.

However, Wallis voted approval of the resolutions after it was pointed out at least a two-week delay would be necessary if written reports were required."

City Atty. Conrad Reisch said any "significant changes" in the report would necessitate calling for new bids, but the council could order changes "if you feel any are in order."

Coast 'Clear' On Brown Act

Pacifica city officials operate under "a sufficiently liberal interpretation" of the Brown Act on secrecy in government, Atty. Conrad Reisch reported Wednesday night.

Reisch, who is city attorney for both Pacifica and Brisbane, said the legislation was discussed "at considerable length" last week at a convention of California city attorneys, especially in regard to certain exceptions pertaining to court litigation.

"The question of a city council's having the right to hold secret meetings on court matters has never been sufficiently tested," he said.

The state attorney general has ruled in favor of allowing closed meetings for discussion of pending court litigation, but a Superior Court judge overruled his position in a recent case.

The Brown Act prohibits closed council meetings for any purpose other than discussion of personnel matters.

Coast Tour Of Police Site

Pacifica councilmen held an adjourned meeting Saturday morning to consider reports on two proposed sites for the new police station.

City manager Bill Masonheimer said Wednesday he has investigated proposals involving the Williams site and the Laguna Salada School District property behind the present city hall "in regard to financing and estimated costs," and reported to the council Saturday.

Westside Baptist

Two Will Attend Tuolomne Session

Two high school seniors from Westside Baptist, or San Bruno, will be among seniors of the Conference of Baptist Churches of Northern Caliofrnia who will meet at the Silver Spur Lodge in Tuolomne Friday in the annual Grad's Retreat.

Pastor A. David Donnelly said the students attending from his church will be Miss Diane Swedberg and Miss Jeannie Anderson.

Sunday, activities begin at Westside with Sunday Church School, a age graded Bible centered class for all the family.

During the Sunday church school hour, Pastor Donnelly is to conduct a church member's orientation class, designed for those interested in fellowship with the local church, and others who want to know what the church teaches.

At the 11 a.m. worship hour, Pastor Donnelly will continue a series of messages dealing with the Marks of the Kingdom Man, by using as his topic, "Dependence." Music for this service will be provided by the Adult Choir. The Westside Male Quartette also will sing.

Sunday evening at the Family Fellowship Gospel Hour, the two girls who attended the Grad's Retreat, will report on their activities.

Pastor Donnelly will deliver another message from the book of Joshua, the topic being "Watch Your Step!" After the evening service adult choir practice will be held.

The Women's Bible Class will meet next Tuesday at 1600 Sante Lucia, San Bruno (St. Andrews Episcopal Church,) with Mrs. Robert Anderson, the teacher.

A group of Junior age girls will gather at the home of Mrs. Ann Besser, 500 Del Monte, South San Francisco, for Girl's Missionary Guild at 7 p.m. tomorrow. Attendance continues to grow each week, as girls invite their friends to participate in this program, sponsored by the local Women's Missionary Society.

Anyone interested in having their daughter enrolled in this Guild, should contact Mrs. Besser, 588-6197.)

Prayer and Bible Study Hour of the Church is to be conducted at the church parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, tonight. Pastor Donnelly will lead a verse-by-verse-study of the book of I Thessalonians.

Westside Baptist Church, holds its Sunday services at 2322 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno, and the chucrh is actively affiliated with the Baptist General Conference.

Bruno Pre-School Classes

The City of San Bruno Recreation Department will start four new Pre-School Recreation Classes starting the week of May 15. Pre-School Activities classes will meet Monday and Wednesday from 10:30 - 11:30 a.m. and 1 - 2 p.m. Activities such as Arts and Crafts, singing, marching, and low organized sports and games will be conducted. Classes Tuesday and Thursday in "Rhythmics and Music" will also be conducted in which children will learn to play rhythm band instruments, and movements to music. The classes will be held from 10 - 11 a.m. and 1 - 2 p.m.

Classes will be limited to 30 children per class and children must be registered before the 1st class meetings. Advance registration will be taken at the Recreation Center Office the week of May 7th - 11th from 9 a.m. - 6 p.m. This program will be limited to San Bruno Residents Only. Those wishing to be assured a place in the class are urged to register as soon as possible.

Parents wishing to enroll their children in the Monday and Wednesday Pre-School Activity Classes are required to assist the instructor for at least one class session.

Cooking Oil Fire Spreads

Overheated cooking oil on an electric stove was blamed for a Daly City fire which caused moderate damage to a home at 2315 Erin Court Sunday.

Firemen said Oscar A. Furtado was heating some cooking oil in the kitchen and left the room.

A passing neighbor spotted smoke pouring from the home and summoned firemen before rushing to the scene with a small fire extinguisher.

The fire was "knocked down" around the stove when fire units arrived shortly before 3 p.m., a fire department spokesman said.

Last Meeting Of Term Set

The Vista Grande PTA will hold its last meeting for the year Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-use room.

Following the meeting, Vista Grande students will present a student talent show, directed by Chairman Mrs. Connie Martire.

Fox Defends Coastside Rifle Club

Pacifica councilman James Fox, an avid outdoorsman and winner of numerous hunting and fishing trophies, came to the defense of the Coastside Sportsmen's Club last night in a dispute over the proposed Montara Ridge rifle range.

The council received a petition from 19 residents of the Linda Mar area last week protesting development of a shooting range on the scenic hill, though the area is outside the city limits of Pacifica.

"It's true the organization failed to acquire a grading permit for the road from the county as charged by these people," Fox said, "but the use permit for the range was granted several years ago."

The permit has been renewed each year for the past five years, he said.

"This is a beneficial and worthwhile organization," the councilman said, "and their facility there will provide considerable recreation for many residents of Pacifica."

Fox said he resents the attitude of some of those protesting the shooting range, and said refering to the club members as "a bunch of gun toters" is especially uncalled for.

The 120-member club owns 72 acres on Montara Ridge, and the range will be constructed on a six-acre site.

Petitioners against the development said the road up the hill will destroy the area's scenic beauty, and "the city should be concerned, since this area will undoubtedly be annexed someday."

The council took no official action on the range and Mayor Grace McCarthy and councilman Harlan Minshew attempted to curb discussion of the matter "since we obviously have no jurisdiction."

Fox, however, said he wanted to make his position "very clear" regarding the sportsmen.

Love Retires From S.P. Job

Dan R. Love, Jr., San Mateo, veteran legislative advocate for the Southern Pacific Co. was honored on his retirement last night in Sacramento at a reception attended by virtually every member of the State Senate, State Assembly in addition to more than 1,000 friends including Governor and Mrs. Reagan and other state elective officials, department heads and employees.

The affair, held at the Senator Hotel was hosted by the California Railroad Association and high praise was given Love for the high level and effective manner in which he has conducted his activities on behalf of the Southern Pacific.

Invitations to the reception read, "One Night for Love." Dan and Mrs. Love received the guests in the Empire Room of the hotel which was jam packed throughout the evening.

Square Dancing Offered Scouts

The Daly City Parks and Recreation Department is offering Square or Folk Dancing to Scouts in the area at the War Memorial building in the Coral Room May 20, June 10 and June 17, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The class will be conducted by Mrs. Elsie MacLearan and will assist Junior troops in badge requirements under dance.

Youth Day In Millbrae Wednesday

Wednesday is Youth in Government Day at Millbrae, and young people from Capuchino and Mills High Schools will "take over" the city, sponsored by the Lions Club.

Ron Tilles, of Mills, will become Mayor in place of Mayor Charles Yetter.

His fellow Councilmen will include John Hippely Jr., of Capuchino, and Greg Miller, Linda Parker, and Lynn St. Clair of Mills.

The junior leaders were chosen when Mills and Capuchino High Schools submitted slates of candidates for the 15 Youth in Government positions open in the city.

Each student prepared a paper of not over 250 words on the subject 'Duties of the Position and Why I Am Qualified to Fill the Job'. These papers were judged by three Peninsula City Managers other than Millbrae, Burlingame and San Bruno.

Other winning candidates were:

City Administrator, Nancy Danziger, Capuchino; City Clerk, Vickie Mohr, Capuchino; City Treasurer, Maria Von Bricken, Mills; City Attorney, Ken Wright, Capuchino; City Engineer, Allan McNay, Mills; Chief of Police, Dennis Geary, Capuchino; Fire Chief, Robert Tigri, Capuchino; Recreation Director, Michael Cooper, Mills; Librarian, Martha Hoey, Mills; and Press Representative, Mike Salomon, Capuchino.

Starting at 9 a.m. on Wednesday the students will spend the day with their counterpart city official actually operating the City Government.

They will go to lunch with their counterpart department head, and at 6:30 p.m. the group will be hosted for dinner by the Millbrae City Council. At 8 p.m. the student officials will conduct a City Council meeting with their parents, the City officials, friends, and the Millbrae Lions in attendance.

On Saturday, May 20 the Student City Officials will participate and will be honored at the Millbrae Art and Youth Festival Parade.

Resident in SSF Protests Bees

A South San Francisco resident petitioned the city council for relief from "harrassment by a swarm of bees" this week.

Councilman Frank Bartucelli said Pete Ferrai has been attacked several times by a swarm of bees near his residence at the corner of Baden Avenue and Eucalyptus during the past 10 days, and "wants to know what the city can do about it."

Mayor Patrick Ahern said the city has no "bee abatement" program, but Ferrai can possibly get help from commercial bee keepers.

"Bees are a $200 million a year business," Ahern said. "I think he can find somebody who wants them."

Ferral is open to offers.

Reagan Will Be Speaker Here June 14

Governor Ronald Reagan will be the principal speaker at a Republican fund-raising dinner in his honor at the Cow Palace, Wednesday evening, June 14, it was announced today by Arch Monson, Jr., chairman of the event.

The $100-a-plate affair, called officially "Dinner for Governor Reagan Sponsored by Bay Are Republicans," will mark Reagan's first appearance at a Republican rally in the Bay Area sice taking office.

"We are indeed fortunate in having the opportunity to get a first-hand report from the Governor on his initial six months as the State's Chief Executive," Monson said.

"The Governor's appearance at the Cow Palace will be one of the first in a series of similar functions planned throughout the state. Some of the other dinners are set for much later in the year, so we are very pleased to get Governor Reagan to come to the Bay Area at this particular time."

Monson said the dinner will have a two fold purpose: "To honor one of our greatest governors and to provide a financial boost to the GOP in California."

"Funds raised at the dinner will help to keep the state committee adequately financed as we head toward election year in 1968," Monson said. "Also, one-half of the proceeds will go to the county selling the tickets.

Sharp Park P-TA Installs

Sharp Park P-TA officers for 1967-68 were installed at the last unit meeting of the year by Mrs. James Buchanan, past president of Sharp Park P-TA and a P-TA Honorary Life Member.

Retiring President Mrs. Paul Hansen presented the gavel to president-elect Mrs. Santos Blasquez of 703 Moana Way. Other officers installed were: First Vice President, Mrs. Norris Anderson; Second Vice President, Mrs. John Simmons; Honorary Vice President, Thomas Collins; Recording Secretary, Mrs. A. F. Krake; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Wesley Heagy; Treasurer, Mrs. Marvin Morganti; Historian, Mrs. Albert Myhrberg.

11 Youths Arrested At Westmoor

Daly City police arrested 11 youths Friday when a teen-age gang armed with knives and clubs entered Westmoor High School, apparently to collect a debt from a student.

Officer Jim Bergstrom said he was patrolling the area about 11 a.m. when he noticed Westmoor coach George McNutt arguing with a group of boys on the grounds in front of the school.

One of the youths was displaying a long knife, Bergstrom said.

An investigation revealed two of the boys were carrying "push button" knives and the automobile in which they arrived contained three wooden clubs and a rope with a metal ball attached, police said.

One of the boys told authorities, a student at the school owed him money, and "we came to collect."

McNutt ordered the youths, most of whom are San Francisco teen-agers, to leave the school property, police said, and he followed them out onto the grounds when they loitered outside the building.

Nine of the boys were arrested and turned over to juvenile authorities in San Francisco and at Hillside, police said.

The other two, Alfredo Bautista, 19, and David Gladman, 23, both of San Francisco, were booked into the Daly City jail.

Pacifica Boy Is Injured

A Pacifica youth was injured Friday afternoon when he lost control of a motorcycle and skidded to the pavement on Claridge Drive, police said.

Randolph Garner, 708 Claridge, was treated for bruises and lacerations at Mary's Help Hospital and later released after the accident occurred at 1:30 p.m. at the intersection of Claridge and Southmoor.
